A SPECIAL WELCOME TO THE FAMILIES OF THE CLASS OF 2022
Welcome to the University of Rochester! We are excited that you and your students have joined our community. We hope that you find both the following Information for Parents and the UR Here student handbook itself helpful and informative. Your students are beginning an amazing journey and you are, too. This information will help guide you either to the answers you seek or to someone in The College who can help provide those answers. We look forward to being there for our students as well as their families over the next four years and beyond.
The College is a vibrant and central part of the University of Rochester, and we are so pleased to welcome you. Our best wishes to you and your students.

INFORMATION FOR PARENTS

ACADEMIC QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
What academic units comprise the University of Rochester?
One college and a number of schools on three campuses:
River Campus
    The College of Arts, Sciences and Engineering
    William E. Simon Graduate School of Business Administration
    Margaret Warner Graduate School of Education and Human Development
Medical Center
    School of Medicine and Dentistry
    School of Nursing
Eastman School of Music

Where do the undergraduate students matriculate?
All undergraduates are enrolled in The College, with the exception of students at the Eastman School of Music. As noted above, The College comprises departments and programs in Arts and Sciences as well as in Engineering and Applied Sciences.

Where do undergraduates take their courses?
Most courses taken by undergraduates are in The College, but students may take courses in any one of the schools of the University as long as they have the interest and have satisfied the prerequisites.

How many students are enrolled at the University?
There are about 5,800 full-time undergraduates and 4,300 graduate students, including those at the Eastman School of Music and the School of Medicine and Dentistry.

What is the normal course load per semester?
Four courses at four credits per course (16 credit hours) are typical. Students may carry between 14 and 19 credits without special approval.

How many credits constitute an overload? Is there an extra charge for extra credits?
A schedule with 20 or more credits is an overload. Special permission is required, and first-semester freshmen are not eligible to carry an overload, although they may take as many as three credits above their standard four courses. There is no extra charge for credits earned over and above the standard 16 per semester.

What about an underload? Is there a refund?
A schedule with 12 or 13 credits is an underload. Special permission is required. There is no refund. (Full-time students must carry at least 12 credits each semester.)

How big are the classes?

Classes in The College vary greatly in size. Some introductory and particularly popular courses are held in lecture halls seating over 200 students. These courses also have recitation sections -- small classes of 10 to 20 students -- where discussions and explanations of lectures and problems are handled by teaching assistants. Recitations usually meet once a week for 50 minutes. Many large or introductory courses also offer study workshops that are led by specially trained peer leaders. WRT 105, the course used to meet the primary writing requirement, has 15 or fewer students.

When do students take classes?

Classes are held Monday through Friday. Some are scheduled for 50-minute periods; other classes meet for 1 hour and 15 minutes twice a week. Additional classes and labs are scheduled in the afternoon. Evening classes are rare.

How many hours a week do students study for their courses?

It is hard to generalize, but each 4-credit course will require students to work approximately 10 hours a week in addition to classroom attendance. Most students find that they need to study 4-6 hours a day.

How does a student get Advanced Placement credit? International Baccalaureate?

Departmental criteria, published in the First-Year Academic Handbook, determine how credit may be awarded to students who take the College Board Advanced Placement tests and I.B. higher-level courses. The College Center for Advising Services notifies students of AP credit decisions in the summer and during Orientation, and of I.B. decisions as it receives transcripts.

Does the College have an Enrollment Policy?

Students admitted in the fall of 2013 and beyond are expected to carry the normal academic load of 16 credits per semester allowing them to complete 128 credits in eight semesters. To ensure that students get the full benefit of the residential college experience, students are expected to maintain full-time enrollment during the fall or spring semester for no less than seven semesters.

Summer and transfer credit, credit for Advanced Placement and International Baccalaureate exams, credit earned on UR study abroad programs that permit continuation of UR financial aid, as well as overload credits earned over the standard 16 per semester, may be applied to meet College requirements. However, the total credit from these sources cannot be used to accelerate graduation by more than one semester.

What is the Rochester Curriculum?

The Rochester Curriculum is our interest-driven course of study in which students complete, in addition to a major, a distributional cluster in each of the two divisions outside the division of the major. The three divisions are traditional: humanities; social sciences; and natural sciences, mathematics, and engineering. Clusters -- sets of three linked courses -- are offered by virtually every department and program.

Is a student required to take a foreign language?

While there is no foreign language requirement, students may learn a new language -- more than ten are offered -- or improve existing skills. Both the Department of Modern Languages and Cultures and the Department of Religion and Classics offer language courses. Divisional clusters in the humanities may be completed in most languages.

Is there a physical education requirement?

No. Students are encouraged to participate in a variety of sports programs, including intramurals, intercollegiate sports, and special clinics sponsored by the Department of Athletics and Recreation.
What grade point average (GPA) must a student have in order to graduate?
A student must have an overall GPA of at least 2.0 (C), and also at least a 2.0 average in the courses submitted for the major and in the divisional clusters students complete in each area outside the area of the major.

Can a student take lessons at the Eastman School of Music? Are music lessons graded?
Students wishing to audition for 2-credit lessons at the Eastman School should visit the Music Department website to complete the audition request form. Auditions are held at the beginning of classes each semester. Eligibility for 2-credit lessons requires that one read music fluently and demonstrate at least an intermediate level of advancement on the instrument or voice. The music lesson grade is calculated as part of the student’s GPA. Students not majoring in music may take these lessons (2 credits) for eight semesters for a total of 16 credits. Full-time students are not charged additional tuition for applied music lessons unless the credits earned over and above the standard 16 per semester are used to accelerate the completion of the degree.

Suppose students do not pass the audition; can they still take music lessons?
Yes, students may take lessons through the Eastman Community Education School. A special fee is required and no collegiate credit is given. See http://www.esm.rochester.edu/community/ for further information.

Will advisors be assigned to each first-year student?
First-year students in the College work with their Undergraduate Advisors beginning at Orientation and until the end of the sophomore year, unless students are accepted into a major earlier. Once in a major, faculty advisors from the students’ major departments take on the responsibility. It is not unusual for students interested in engineering to work with the same advisor throughout their undergraduate years. All students are also welcome to see a professional staff advisor in the College Center for Advising Services, Lattimore 312.

Where does a student go for help in choosing courses and selecting a major?
To his or her Undergraduate Advisor, peer advisor, the academic department of interest, or to the College Center for Advising Services, where full-time professional advisors are readily available.

What are the criteria for Dean’s List?
Students need to earn an overall semester GPA of 3.4 and complete 16 or more credit hours, at least 12 of which have normal letter grades (A through E), with no “I” or “N” grades.

How many first-year students get into academic trouble?
Between 5 and 7% of the first-year class is on academic probation by the end of the first year, and 8-10 first-year students typically are separated from the University, none after their first semester.

Can a student who has been separated for academic reasons return to the University?
Yes, a student may apply for readmission after one year away. It is rare for a student not to be readmitted.

Are there any important points to remember about the grading system?
Yes. The Basic Science Sequence regulations state that students receiving less than C- in an introductory math, chemistry, computer science, or physics course will not be allowed to continue in that sequence without special permission (granted by the appropriate department). In addition, the College requires students to earn a grade of C or higher in WRT 105, the course fulfilling the Primary Writing Requirement.
Do all courses affect the student's grade point average?
All regular letter grades (A through E) affect the average, unless the student has declared the S/F (satisfactory/fail) option.

Are grade reports sent home?
No. Students access their grades on-line through UR ACCESSplus.

May I request a copy of my student's grades?
Yes, parents may request grades for students under the age of twenty-one by sending a signed request to the Office of the Registrar. See the complete policy at http://www.rochester.edu/registrar/faq/parents.html.

Is it unusual for students to change majors?
No. More than half of our students change their primary area of interest at least once over their four years.

How many students go on to graduate or professional school?
Usually about a third of the senior class goes on, immediately after graduation, to graduate or professional schools. Many more earn advanced degrees at a later time.

What procedure should be followed if my student is hospitalized or needs to leave school for a period of time?
Whenever possible, students are encouraged to communicate directly with their professors. Additionally, students are encouraged to inform the Center for Advising Services when an illness, death or family emergency causes them to return home. Students are also encouraged to meet with an advisor in Advising Services upon their return. See http://www.rochester.edu/college/ccas/AdviserHandbook/Attendance.html for additional information.

ACADEMIC PROGRAMS AND SERVICES

AUDITED COURSES
Students wanting to participate in class sessions during the academic year and work without earning a grade for the course or credit towards a degree may register to audit. There is no extra cost for full-time students, but permission of the instructor is required. The course will not appear on the transcript.

GRADUATE COURSES
Undergraduates may take graduate level courses. To qualify for such a course, the student must have the academic prerequisites and must show that he/she is capable of handling graduate level courses. Written approval of the instructor in the course and the student’s dean are required.

GRADUATING WITH HONORS
Students graduating from the College are awarded degrees cum laude, magna cum laude, and summa cum laude if they have earned at least 88 credit hours that are counted in the GPA, have completed all degree requirements, have no missing grades, and have a final cumulative average that meets the criteria announced in the spring of their senior year. Summa cum laude graduates comprise the top 2% of the class, magna cum laude the next 10%, and cum laude the next 20%.

LEAVING THE UNIVERSITY
Some students decide to take a temporary leave from the University, and others withdraw altogether. The student accomplishes this objective by going to the College Center for Advising Services to request a Leave of Absence or to withdraw from the University. Students who leave after the beginning of the semester may be eligible for a partial refund of tuition according to the predetermined schedule published on the Bursar’s web site.

Leave of Absence is designed for students who want to leave campus for a certain length of time but intend to return within the next few semesters. Students are charged a $60 “Inactive Fee” for each semester they request this standing. Students do not have to apply for readmission to the University when they decide to return. Returning to Rochester after withdrawal, however, requires formal readmission, which is handled by the College Center for Advising Services.

NAVAL SCIENCE PROGRAMS

Students interested in becoming an officer in the United States Navy or Marine Corps are encouraged to explore opportunities available through the Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps (NROTC). Prospective Midshipmen may apply in high school for an NROTC scholarship, or affiliate with the unit on a non-scholarship (College Program) basis up to the start of their sophomore year. Once in the College Program, Midshipmen may then apply for a three-year or two-year NROTC scholarship to complete their degree.

NROTC Rochester consists of approximately 75 men and women. The unit places a strong emphasis on moral, academic, and physical excellence. The support and encouragement of the unit staff coupled with the camaraderie of the Midshipmen Battalion provides a framework for success through one’s college career.

Midshipmen normally take one Naval Science course per semester. Time in class is complemented by a weekly lab period in which students participate in activities such as leadership training, guest presenters and public speaking. Outside the classroom, unit-sponsored activities include military drill competitions, intramural sports and community service activities. An integral part of the University community, NROTC Midshipmen participate in the full range of UR activities.

SENIOR SCHOLARS

Students accepted to this program are able to devote their entire final year of college to work on a single intellectual project. The project may include coursework in addition to independent study. The nature of the project can range from scholarly research to artistic creativity, and should draw and build upon a student’s career through the junior year. The principal characteristics of the project should be intellectual engagement and coherence and educational soundness and continuity. The project is composed and carried out under the supervision of a faculty advisor or advisors, and reviewed by the Committee on Individualized Interdepartmental Programs For further information students should contact the Multidisciplinary Studies Center.

SUMMER SCHOOL

The College typically offers almost 100 traditional and nontraditional courses in 4- and 6-week sessions from May into early August. Summer is a great time for students to get ahead, catch up, repeat a course, complete a cluster, or just try something different. Undergraduates successfully completing such courses receive full credit toward the degree, and grades are calculated into the grade point average. On-campus housing is available. Visit http://www.rochester.edu/college/osp/ for more information.

UNDERGRADUATE RESEARCH

As a major research institution, the College actively encourages primary research by undergraduates, not only in the natural sciences and engineering, but in the social sciences and humanities as well. Opportunities for doing hands-on, professionally supervised research in fields as diverse as organic chemistry and medieval history are open to qualified students, both within regular courses and in special independent projects during the regular school year and in the summer. For information on such opportunities, contact the Director of Undergraduate Research or go to the web site at Additionally, there are opportunities to participate in courses supervised by University faculty members, which usually combine field experience with lectures, seminars, and oral and written reports, as well as credit-bearing internships, which enable students to work in a variety of off-campus settings. Information may be obtained from the College Center for Advising Services. Finally, the Gwen M. Greene Career and Internship Center and the Rochester Center for Community Leadership are major sources of information on all matters of experiential opportunities for students.

INTERNSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

Internships are a form of experiential learning that integrate knowledge and theory learned in the classroom with practical applications in a professional setting. Internships can be completed locally, internationally, and in locations throughout the U.S. The University also participates in the The Washington Center’s semester-long internship program in Washington, D.C. For further information, students may consult with the Gwen M. Greene Career and Internship Center, the College Center for Advising Services, the Center for Education Abroad, and the Rochester Center for Community Leadership.

STUDENT RIGHTS

FAMILY EDUCATIONAL RIGHTS AND PRIVACY ACT

The University of Rochester complies fully with the provisions of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA), 20 U.S.C. 1232g. Under FERPA, students have, with certain limited exceptions, the right to inspect and review their educational records and to request the amendment of their records to ensure that they are not inaccurate, misleading, or otherwise in violation of the student’s privacy or other rights. FERPA further requires, again with certain limited exceptions, that the student’s consent must be obtained before disclosing any personally identifiable information in the student’s education records. One such exception is disclosure to parents of dependent students. Another exception is disclosure to school officials with legitimate educational interest, on a “need-to-know” basis, as determined by the administrator responsible for the file. Students who want further information about the University’s student records policy may obtain copies of it from the Registrar. Students alleging failure to comply with FERPA have the right to file complaints with the U.S. Department of Education under its regulations (see 34 C.F.R. Part 99).

Currently enrolled students may request that directory information (name, campus address, home address, telephone number, date and place of birth, academic fields of study, current enrollment (full or part time), email address, dates of attendance, participation in recognized activities and sports, degrees and awards, weight and height of athletic team members, previous educational agencies or institutions attended, and other similar information) be withheld from disclosure by making a request, in writing, to the Office of the University Registrar, 127 Lattimore Hall or to PO Box 270038. The University assumes that failure on the part of the student to specifically request the withholding of any directory information indicates approval of disclosure.

STANDARDS OF CONDUCT

Students are expected to abide by the policies of the University and to conduct themselves in accordance with accepted standards of good citizenship, honesty, and propriety, and with proper regard for the rights of others. Students must, of course, also obey federal, state, and local laws. Furthermore, their responsibilities as students, scholars, researchers, and in many cases teachers and emerging professionals, often make special demands for the highest ethical standards.

Students who may have acted in a manner that is inconsistent with the standards of our community will be given notice of their alleged infraction, an opportunity to explain what happened and the chance to appeal the initial outcome. Appropriate cases may be referred to an alternative dispute resolution process, such as mediation or a restorative circle, in lieu of our traditional hearing based conduct system. A full description of the University conduct process is provided in Standards of Student Conduct: A Guide to the University of Rochester Conduct Process and Policies which is published by the Center for Student Conflict Management, an area within the Office of the Dean of Students. For further information visit the CSCM website at http://www.rochester.edu/college/dos/conduct/ or contact Kyle Orton, Assistant Dean of Students and Director of the Center for Student Conflict Management at 275-4085.

COMMUNICATION AND CONFIDENTIALITY

The College welcomes communication from the parents and guardians of our students. Our aim is to be as responsive as possible within legal guidelines. Our policies of communication about students are both informed and constrained by federal legislation.

ACADEMIC MATTERS

- Students have access to their grades online; paper copies of grade reports are not sent either to students or parents. The policy of the College is to release grade information to parents when permitted by law, unless the student objects and/or disclosure would not be in the student’s best interest in the judgment of the College. Federal law (FERPA) generally prohibits a school’s disclosure of grades without the student’s consent. However schools may, but are not required to, disclose academic information to parents of students who can be claimed as dependents under federal tax laws. The College will generally honor written (not e-mail), signed requests by students to release their grades to parents or other persons specified. Signed, written (not e-mail) grade requests by parents of undergraduates will also generally be honored; however, the College may deny a request if the student objects or if the Dean decides that disclosure is not in the student’s best interest, or if the student cannot be claimed as a dependent.

SHARING INFORMATION ABOUT STUDENT CONDUCT

- The College does not routinely inform parents or guardians about action resulting from a student engaging in inappropriate behavior. In accordance with FERPA, the College will contact parents if their student has engaged in behavior that causes a perceived significant risk to themselves or others.
- Students may choose to allow the College to share information contained in their conduct files by signing a FERPA release in the Center for Student Conflict Management.

The University of Rochester complies fully with the provisions of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA), 20 U.S.C. 1232g. FERPA requires, with certain limited exceptions, that the student’s consent must be obtained before disclosing any personally identifiable information in the student’s education records. One such exception is disclosure [of grades] to parents of dependent students.

HEALTH AND COUNSELING

- The relationship between the University Health Service providers and their patients is confidential. Notification of others, including parents, friends, and University faculty and administrators is considered the student’s responsibility, unless the situation is life threatening and the student is unable to assume responsibility for informing others. Parental notification and consent will be obtained for students under age 18, as required by law. For more information about UHS, check www.rochester.edu/uhs.
- All client contact with the University Counseling Center therapists is confidential. The fact that a student is using UCC will not be disclosed to any University official or faculty member, or to family, friends, or roommates, without permission of the student, except in very specific circumstances. These circumstances are limited to instances when a student’s life or that of another person is in danger. For more information about UCC, see www.rochester.edu/ucc.

• These policies are in accordance with New York State law and the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act Regulations (HIPAA), which regulate how hospitals and physicians can report information about their patients. They have significant impact on our ability to communicate information about students receiving health care while in college. The College’s aim is to be as helpful and responsive to students and their families as the law will allow. We have therefore encouraged College personnel (coaches, area directors, deans, etc.) to make every effort to communicate with or to accompany students in the Emergency Department to provide the extra support and care often needed when students are away from home. Because we cannot guarantee being able to inform families when a student’s health and safety is affected, it is our policy to actively encourage the student to contact his or her family and friends directly and immediately.

MAIL & EMAIL POLICY

Official communications from the College may either be sent electronically using the student’s University-assigned email address, or by regular mail to the student’s local address. (In most cases the local address is the CMC Box.) The College expects that students will read such official College communications in a timely fashion. Students who choose to forward email from their University account to another email address remain responsible for receiving and reading official College communications. Students need to check their CMC boxes regularly.

STATEMENT OF EDUCATIONAL PHILOSOPHY

The University of Rochester seeks to provide the best possible environment for excellence in learning, research, and teaching at the collegiate, graduate, and professional levels. To accomplish this, we bring together faculty, students, and staff who have achieved excellence or show great promise toward that goal, who are dedicated to learning, and who will help to build a community that encourages all of its members to succeed and grow.

Our University’s distinctive heritage -- bolstered by foundational community and university leaders such as abolitionist Frederick Douglass, women’s rights activist Susan B. Anthony, and corporate leader and philanthropist Joseph C. Wilson, as well as numerous path-breaking scholars -- leads us actively to seek out and include persons from diverse backgrounds and origins who carry with them their own valued and important perspectives.

The University’s motto -- Meliora (“ever better”) -- defines excellence as a process of continual improvement. Pursuing excellence in learning and teaching in the framework of our distinctive heritage demands the inclusion of those who will collectively and individually enhance our diversity.

Further, productive inquiry best takes place when individuals can explore and share their experience and thoughts as equal members of our community, uninhibited by prejudice or discrimination. Thus, our pursuit of excellence requires that we create and support a community of faculty, students and staff who together and individually enhance diversity and who strive to make themselves and our community ever better.

The University of Rochester envisions itself as a community that welcomes, encourages, and supports individuals who desire to contribute to and benefit from, the institution’s missions of teaching, research, patient care, performance, and community service. In a pluralistic culture, that community includes faculty, students, and staff who represent important differences. Members of the University’s community come from different geographical areas, represent differences in ethnicities, religious beliefs, values, and points of view; they may be physically different, have different intellectual interests, or have different abilities. The University not only welcomes such differences in the members of its community, but in fulfilling its own missions and in preparing the leaders of tomorrow’s world who will necessarily be operating in an equally wide-ranging environment, it actively seeks to recruit and include them in all aspects of the institution’s operations.

COMMUNAL PRINCIPLES

PURPOSE

The principles of fairness, freedom, honesty, inclusion, respect and responsibility are the necessary conditions of learning. The College, in particular, is a community of engaged individuals who come together in a residential learning environment to learn, to teach, or to work in service to these endeavors. To encourage the participation and involvement of all members of The College, we have set forward several fundamental interrelated principles. It is these principles that we will use to develop systems and processes that safeguard the special nature of The College community and to ensure the involvement and inclusion of all its members.

FAIRNESS

The principles of fairness and openness are fundamental to the operations of this community--its processes for decision-making, problem solving, and doing the work of the institution. Every person has the right to, and should expect, fair treatment according to openly stated and clearly articulated expectations, policies, and procedures, and in accordance with the fundamental rights and privileges of a free society. Every person is encouraged, in parallel ways, to use fair and open methods of communication and action, including wherever possible, those provided by existing institutional channels, in voicing concerns and seeking solutions to problems.

FREEDOM
The freedom of all people in a community of learning to ask questions and to seek answers is essential and actively encouraged. Each person has the right to learn, teach, and work—to express themselves through their ideas and activities—without threat to his or her education or career progress or to that of others. Freedom of expression of ideas and action is not to be limited by acts of intimidation, political or ideological oppression, abuse of authority, or threat of physical harm and wellbeing.

HONESTY
Honesty and personal integrity are fundamental to all assumptions of participation in a community dedicated to the advancement of knowledge. Honesty advances our efforts as well as strengthens the interrelationships on which community is built. On the other hand, dishonesty undermines the search for truth and undermines the bonds between the persons who live, study, and work here. It further damages community by wasting the energy and educational opportunities of all involved.

INCLUSION
Our community welcomes, encourages, and supports individuals who desire to contribute to and benefit from the institution’s missions. Members of the University’s community come from different geographical areas, represent differences in ethnicities, religious beliefs, values, and points of view; they may be physically different, have different intellectual interests, or have different abilities. We not only welcome such differences in members of our community but we also actively seek to include them in all aspects of the institution’s operations.

RESPECT
Respect for the basic dignity of self and others is essential to this community. Every person has the right to be treated with respect, regardless of the many differences that distinguish individuals and groups. Respect involves showing regard for other’s well-being and safety as well as for their personal property, personal space, and for their living, learning, and working activities. In addition, members of this community also have a responsibility to respect the properties and functions of the institution.

RESPONSIBILITY
Freedom and responsibility are two sides of the same coin. To uphold this kind of freedom of expression and action in the public arena, each person has the responsibility to own his or her ideas and actions as well as to express them in ways that do not limit or threaten others’ freedom to learn, teach and work. This means that ideas and actions are neither anonymous nor isolated. To act or express one’s ideas openly and in a responsible manner enhances the learning and growth of all. On the other hand, to act or express one’s ideas in an irresponsible manner impinges on other’s rights and freedom to learn and grow.

GET INVOLVED
Communities belong to their members, and they are strongest and the most rewarding when everyone is active and engaged to their communities. At Rochester, we could not believe this more. That’s why there are hundreds of ways for you to be involved both on campus and off.

Interested in joining a student organization on campus? Over 250 clubs and organizations currently exist, providing exciting and provoking activities for the entire community to enjoy.
Head over to the Fall Activities Fair on August 31st and the Winter Activities Fair on January 18th to speak with group members about their various clubs and figure out which groups best fit your interests. Categories of organizations include academic councils, awareness, club sports, community service, cultural, entertainment programming, fraternities and sororities, inter-collegiate competition, performing and fine arts, publications and media, pre-professional, student government, and more. Check out Campus Community Connection (ccc.rochester.edu) to sign up for organization mailing lists.

Another way to get involved is by supporting your classmates and the UR community through participation in the numerous campus events. These programs include the College Community Weekends, Boar’s Head Dinner, Club Rochester, ROC Tix, athletic competitions, musical and dance performances, cultural events, and other college traditions. Check your email for the Read This, The Report, and Weekend Highlights, so you always know what is going on.

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

Student organizations are listed by category below. How groups are commonly referred to on campus is shown after the hyphen. * indicates an official committee of an organization, which is listed underneath the parent organization. FACILITIES

The Campus Center

Wilson Commons, opened in 1976, was designed by the architectural firm of I.M. Pei to have three of its walls and its ceiling made of 18,000 square feet of glass. Throughout its five levels, Wilson Commons provides space for meetings, special events, relaxation, recreation, and programs organized by student organizations, Wilson Commons Student Activities and University departments. It serves as the home for several student organizations by providing office, work, and storage space.

The Frederick Douglass Commons was originally built in the 1950s and named for Rochester’s national leader of the abolitionist movement. After an extensive renovation it re-opened in the fall of 2016. The first floor features a micro-restaurant style dining facility and late night dining options in The Genesee Room. The second floor features a flexible, multipurpose event space and connects to Wilson Commons via a tunnel. The third floor connects via bridge to Rush Rhees Library and contains a public lounge, meditation room, ablution rooms, lactation room, and meeting rooms. The third floor also is the home of the Burgett Intercultural Center (http://www.rochester.edu/college/bic/) and Language Center. The fourth floor has additional meeting rooms and features a community kitchen.

Frederick Douglass Commons in conjunction with Wilson Commons creates The Campus Center for undergraduate student life.

Gandhi Institute collaborates with local organizations, academic institutions, students, and committed peacemakers in the following areas: nonviolence education, sustainability, environmental conservation, and the promotion of racial justice. The Institute prioritizes programming for people between the ages of 12 and 24 as well as those who serve those age groups.

The Institute continuously offers groups and individuals training in skills such as Nonviolent Communication, meditation, and experiential interconnectedness, and fosters responses to systemic violence in the Rochester area through projects focused on urban agriculture, racial healing work, and restorative approaches to conflict.

The Gandhi Institute is housed at 929 S. Plymouth Ave, between Flint and Magnolia streets and provides an inviting and safe place for a wide variety of groups to meet. The Institute offers its conference room for groups on a donation basis and maintains a large community garden and book library that is available to all.

FRATERNITIES AND SORORITIES

Fraternities and sororities play a significant role in the undergraduate experience at Rochester. These organizations provide opportunities for intellectual, cultural, and interpersonal growth—opportunities that complement the College’s formal academic program and exemplify the Communal Principles of Freedom, Fairness, Honesty, Inclusion, Respect, and Responsibility.

Membership in these organizations provides a home away from home, a vehicle for leadership and personal development, and resources to help students achieve success in the College. Membership provides an opportunity for students to get more involved in academic research, campus activities, and community engagement.

The professional staff in Fraternity and Sorority affairs advise, advocate for, and promote the learning and development of fraternity and sorority members through collaborative partnerships which support the University’s Mission and the Communal Principles of the College. Students who engage in programs, activities, and services provided by Fraternity and Sorority Affairs will:

• Gain practical skills and knowledge they can apply to daily life
• Use critical thinking skills (e.g., raise vital questions, gather and assess relevant information, think open mindedly with alternative systems of thought and communicate effectively) to positively shape the vision, goals, and activities of their chapters and community.
• Demonstrate personal responsibility and make informed decisions that are congruent with personal values and the principles/tenants of their national/international organizations.
• Identify and use their personal strengths in leadership capacities to achieve chapter and community goals.
• Demonstrate care and concern for others within their chapters, community, and an inclusive and globally-oriented society.

THINGS TO DO IN ROCHESTER

There are so many opportunities to get involved at UR that students run the risk of missing out on all that the city of Rochester has to offer. Rochester boasts a wealth of historical and cultural resources comparable with much larger cities. In addition to the events and attractions listed on the following pages, check out a few other resources. City guides, such as Insider, City Newspaper, and Freetime are delivered weekly to Wilson Commons and advertise local music and theater performances, films, and other special events open to the entire community. Take advantage of ROC Tix which is a discount ticket program for UR undergrads, offering students the opportunity to buy tickets to local and regional off-campus events at a subsidized rate. Events include concerts, arts and cultural attractions, sports, comedy, movies, theatre, film festivals, recreational activities and more.

The Common Connection in Wilson Commons 201, is a hot spot for ideas about activities both on and off campus. For getting around Rochester, take advantage of the University’s shuttle bus lines, which are free with UR ID. Bus schedules and assistance with navigating the area are available at the Common Connection. The Blue Line runs between Whipple Park, Medical Center/College Town, and River Campus. The Red Line runs between the River Campus and the Eastman School of Music. The Gold Line provides transportation between the Riverview Apartments, Brooks Crossing Apartments, and River Campus; Gold Line 19th Ward is a line that operates nightly into the 19th Ward area and stops at Riverview & Brooks Crossing Apartments. The Green Line provides weekly service to area shopping centers, including malls and the historic Rochester Public Market. The Orange Line provides daily morning and evening service between River Campus to Downtown Housing (East Ave., Monroe Ave., Alexander St.); this shuttle stops at Eastman Living Center on weekends and after 6:30 pm weekdays.

The Genesee River Parks along the Genesee River are some of the area’s most beautiful parks. Don’t leave Rochester without visiting the “north coast” on Lake Ontario, just twelve miles north of campus. Ontario Beach Park, at Lake and Beach Avenues, is near the Charlotte Lighthouse. Turning Point Park, at Lake Avenue and Boxart Street, offers a scenic spot for picnicking, fishing and water fun and features a spectacular boardwalk across a stretch of the river. Seneca Park is home to the zoo, and is a great spot for biking, hiking, fishing, and picnicking. Downtown, you might want to picnic at the Genesee Crossroads Park on Andrews Street, the Aqueduct Park on Main Street, or the Erie Canal Aqueduct on Broad Street. The Genesee Gateway Park is on Mt. Hope Avenue, and right next to the UR is Genesee Valley Park, with hiking and biking trails, swimming, boating, skating, tennis, golf, and athletic fields. The New York State Barge Canal intersects the river here, providing access to the canal path, which leads for many miles both east and west along the historic canal system. Genesee Valley Park, Seneca Park and Highland Park were all designed by the renowned landscape architect, Frederick Law Olmsted (best known for designing New York’s Central Park), and are the crown jewels of Rochester’s park system.

ACADEMIC LIFE

How can you get the most out of your Rochester Curriculum? How can you pursue your interests and your intellectual passions within the faculty’s guidelines? How can you achieve the competency you seek? This section offers some ideas and policies.

THE BASICS

Academic Honesty - Guidelines for Students

As members of an academic community, students and faculty have the responsibility to engage in honest communication. Academic dishonesty is a serious violation of the trust upon which an academic community depends. Some examples of academic dishonesty follow.

- Plagiarism is using someone else’s work without giving credit. It is, for example, using ideas, phrases, papers, laboratory reports, computer programs, data -- copied directly or paraphrased -- that you did not arrive at on your own. Sources include published works such as books, movies, web sites, and unpublished works such as other students’ papers or material from a research service. In brief, representing someone else’s work as your own is academically dishonest. The risk of plagiarism can be avoided in written work by clearly indicating, either in footnotes or in the paper itself, the source of any major or unique idea or wording that you did not arrive at on your own. Sources must be given regardless of whether the material is quoted directly or paraphrased.

- Cheating is using unauthorized notes or other study aids during an examination; using unauthorized technology during an examination; improper storage of prohibited notes, course materials and study aids during an exam such that they are accessible or possible to view; looking at other students’ work during an exam or in an assignment where collaboration is not allowed; attempting to communicate with other students in order to get help during an exam or in an assignment where collaboration is not allowed; obtaining an examination prior to its administration; altering graded work and submitting it for re-grading; allowing another person to do one’s work and submitting it as one’s own; submitting work done in one class for credit in another without the instructor’s permission; obstructing or interfering with another student’s academic work; undertaking any activity intended to obtain an unfair advantage over other students.

- Unauthorized collaboration is working with or receiving help from others on graded assignments without the specific approval of the instructor. If in doubt, seek permission from the instructor before working with others.

- The misuse of library materials such as maliciously hindering the use of or access of others to library materials is an academically dishonest act. The removal of pages from books or journals, the removal of books from the libraries without checking them out, the intentional hiding of materials, or the refusal to return reserve readings to the library are all dishonest acts that are harmful to the community.

- Knowingly assisting someone else during an examination.

- Forging signatures or falsifying information on official academic documents such as drop/add forms, incomplete forms, petitions, letters of permission, or any other official University document.

A student remains responsible for the academic honesty of work submitted in UR courses, even after the student has received a final course grade. This rule also applies to students who are no longer matriculated here, including those who have graduated.

Ignorance of these standards will not be considered a valid excuse or defense. If a student is ever in doubt about an issue of academic honesty or has any hesitation about a contemplated course of action, the student should consult with his or her instructors. All new students are expected to complete the College’s Academic Honesty Tutorial prior to arrival on campus. The penalties for academic dishonesty can be very painful and can affect a student’s entire educational experience at the University.

The complete statement of the faculty’s policy on academic honesty and other useful information can be found at www.rochester.edu/College/honesty/.

Accessing Student Records

You can access your academic records and other important information using the Web-based system called UR ACCESS Plus. The system is accessible from any on-campus or off-campus computer with a Web browser. You can enter the system using your NetID and password. Please visit www.rochester.edu/registrar to view UR ACCESS Plus.

Add/Drop

Beginning in the third week of the semester, you need the signature of the instructor whose course you want to add on a drop/add form. You do not need the signature of the instructor whose course you want to drop. Students also need the signature of their Undergraduate Advisor for every add and drop until the end of the sophomore year unless they have been accepted into a major before then. Students may withdraw from a course after the drop/delete deadline through the eleventh week of the semester. Deadlines appear in the “Important Dates” section in UR Here, on the calendar pages in this handbook, and at www.rochester.edu/registrar. Add/drop forms can be obtained in Lattimore 312 and should be returned there. Keep your copy of the form for your own records!

Incomplete Grades

An instructor may give a grade of “I” when there are circumstances beyond the student’s control, such as illness or personal emergency, that prevent the student from finishing the course work on time. A form requesting a grade of “Incomplete,” indicating the work outstanding and the deadline for its completion, is signed by the student and the instructor and submitted to the Center for Advising Services.

Repeating Courses

There may come a time when you want to show on your record that you understand the material better than your grade indicates. It is always recommended that you speak with an advisor in Advising Services first, since there may be other options. Students also need to receive formal approval to repeat a course which is granted through the on-line Repeat Course Request form. If you repeat a course at Rochester for a grade, both course registrations and both grades appear on the transcript, but only the second (which is not necessarily the better!) grade counts in the GPA. Credit may be earned for a course only once. (Students who pass WRT 105/105E/WRT 105A/B but with less than the necessary “C” may choose to keep the credit when they repeat the course as long as they submit the required form by the end of the drop/add period of the semester in which they repeat the course. Both grades are calculated into the GPA.) Beginning with courses taken during the Fall 2014 semester or later, permission to repeat a course will be granted only if the grade earned is below “C.”

S/F (Satisfactory/Fail) Option

If you want to take a course but are afraid you might do poorly, and if you don’t need the course to meet any requirement, the College provides an option known familiarly as “Pass/Fail.” Rules on use of the option vary, e.g., once declared, the S/F may not be removed except if needed for a major, minor, or cluster. It makes sense to check with an advisor in Advising Services before selecting the option, but you do not need anyone’s approval. The S/F form is available online. See the “Important Dates” section in UR Here, and note two important facts: the regular deadline for declaring the option is the end of the eleventh week of the semester, which is the same as the deadline for withdrawing from a course. Also note that first-semester and transfer students have until the end of the thirteenth week to declare the option. If you take a course on the S/F option (and you may take one course each semester) you receive credit if you pass and an “S” on your transcript. If you fail, you’ll get an “F.” Neither the “S” nor the “F” grade is factored into your GPA. The instructor won’t know you are taking the course S/F unless you tell her or him.

Transfer Credit

Transfer credit may be granted for course work taught at another college or university and completed with a grade of “C” or above. Upon receipt of the official transcript, the course work will be evaluated to determine if it is equivalent in level and/or content to course work at UR. Students should have an official transcript sent to the Center for Advising Services, RC Box 270402, Rochester, NY 14627-0402. Students with questions about Advanced Placement, International Baccalaureate, A-level Examinations, or transfer credit should consult with an advisor in the Center for Advising Services. (Note that the College does not grant transfer credit for secondary school course work or for courses taught in a secondary school by the secondary school’s own faculty for college credit.)

Tutoring and Academic Support Services

A variety of academic support services are available on campus. Students seeking support through group or individual tutoring may visit the Center for Excellence in Teaching and Learning to learn about these resources. Tutors are graduate students, selected undergraduate students with excellent GPAs, as well as members of various student organizations including the Engineering Honor Society Tau Beta Pi and the Student Physics Society. The Center for Excellence in Teaching and Learning in Dewey Hall offers study groups, workshops, individual study skills counseling and a study skills course. The Writing, Speaking, and Argument Program in G-121, Rush Rhees Library, offers help with writing and public speaking. The Office of Minority Student Affairs offers tutoring and study group support as well.

Accommodations for Students with Disabilities

The University of Rochester is committed to providing access to educational opportunities for all individuals including students with disabilities, in accordance with state and federal laws and regulations, including the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) of 1990 and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. To ensure access for students with disabilities, the University provides reasonable accommodations including auxiliary aids and modifications to courses, programs, services, activities or facilities. Exceptions will be made in those situations where the accommodation would fundamentally alter the nature of the program, cause undue hardship on the school, or jeopardize the health or safety of others. Accommodations must specifically address the functional limitations of the disability.

Those students in the College who wish to request an accommodation should contact the Office of Disability Resources, at 276-5075 (e-mail disability@rochester.edu). To self-identify a disability and request an accommodation is a personal decision. A decision not to self-identify will be respected. Any discussion to consider this decision will be treated confidentially.

The University Intercessor and Directory of Disability Compliance is Lynnett Van Slyke who is available at 275-9125 (e-mail L.VanSlyke@rochester.edu).

Religious Holidays

College policy and practice are that classes not be dismissed on religious holidays. It is expected, however, that students will not be penalized in any way for observing religious holidays. Instructors are asked not to schedule examinations in conflict with such holidays. New York Education Law provides that students who choose not to attend classes or take exams on certain days because of their religious beliefs will be given an equivalent opportunity to make up the work requirements or exams they miss without penalties. Students should speak directly with their instructors if they have concerns about an exam or course assignment scheduled on a religious holiday. Advisors in the College Center for Advising Services are also available for consultation.

DEGREE PROGRAMS

Degree Requirements

Students need to complete:

- A minimum of 128 credit hours with an average grade of “C” or better,
- the primary writing requirement (normally WRT 105, WRT 105E or WRT 105A and WRT 105B) with a grade of “C” or better,
- a major (including the upper-level writing requirement), with an average grade of “C” or better, and, to complete the Rochester Curriculum,
- a divisional Cluster in each of the two divisions outside the area of the major with an average grade of “C” or better. Students may substitute a second major or a minor for a Cluster in either or both of these two divisions). Hajim students may have modified cluster requirements.
- The College’s enrollment policy which specifies that students may not accelerate their graduation by more than one semester

Majors

Many students come here with some idea of what they would like to study. Many students don’t. And a lot of both kinds of students change their minds at least once.

You are not expected to be accepted officially into a major (which sometimes includes ancillary courses or an allied field), or to declare the balance of your Rochester Curriculum, until the end of your second year. Therefore, there is no rush. It is a good idea to shop around. Take a few courses in a few departments. Discover what you like and follow your interests!

Only a few majors require so many courses that you have to start right away. Most majors leading to the B.A. degree require only ten to twelve courses, while most B.S. degrees require around 20. So, unless you know you want to study Engineering or pursue a B.S. in Arts and Sciences, you have time to take a good look at what the College has to offer.
What you major in is not as important in finding a job as you might think. Talk to your Undergraduate Advisor, upper-class students, peer advisors, the Career and Internship Center, and alumni. Find a major you like. You will probably do better and will enjoy college a lot more.

Take some time early on to follow your curiosity and explore your interests. Try classes in new disciplines. You might find yourself fulfilling a divisional Cluster in a new area, or even majoring in it.

Double Majors

Many Rochester undergrads decide to major in two fields. Double majoring requires that a student completes requirements for one B.A. degree in two departments; no two majors may overlap by more than three courses. Double majoring can be an attractive option since it allows students to receive recognition for concentrating work in two different areas. And, if you can’t decide between two majors – say, English or Economics – you don’t have to. A second major from a different division will substitute for a Cluster.

Interdepartmental Studies

Through the Interdepartmental Studies Program, students can create their own interdisciplinary majors, minors and clusters. You can construct an individual program suited to your own special talents and interests. Both Arts and Sciences and the Hajim School of Engineering and Applied Sciences offer individualized interdepartmental degree programs. For more information on these degrees, contact the Multidisciplinary Studies Center in Lattimore 203, or the Dean’s Office of the Hajim School in Lattimore 306.

Minors

Dozens of minors are available in Arts and Sciences and Engineering. Minors provide a good opportunity for students to receive recognition for focused coursework without having to go through the rigors of a second major. Minors require only five to seven courses. They are offered in some areas where there is no major. A minor from a division other than that of the major will substitute for a Cluster. No major and minor may overlap by more than two courses, and no two minors may overlap by more than two courses.

For more information about minors, talk to the undergraduate advisor in the department in which you are interested, contact the Center for Advising Services, and read the current Undergraduate Bulletin available at http://www.rochester.edu/bulletin/index.html.

Clusters

Clusters are officially authorized sets of related courses. Each Cluster requires at least 12 credit hours, and each falls within one of the three academic divisions: Humanities, Social Sciences, and Natural Sciences and Engineering. The Cluster Search Engine displays, in easy-to-use fashion, every Cluster approved by the Curriculum Committee. Try it at www.rochester.edu/College/CCAS/clusters/. Students may request unique modifications of these authorized Clusters through the sponsoring department and may even propose individualized interdepartmental Clusters. Students who complete certain Engineering majors need only one Cluster outside the area of the major but often have other distributional requirements.

SPECIAL OPPORTUNITIES

Certificate and Citation Programs

The College offers interdepartmental certificate programs, taken in conjunction with a Bachelor’s degree. For information on these programs in Actuarial Studies, Literary Translation Studies, Mathematical Modeling in Political Science and Economics, and Polish and Central European Studies, contact the Multidisciplinary Studies Center in Lattimore 203. Also check out the Citation for Community-Engaged Scholarship (information available in Lattimore 107) and the Citation for Achievement in College Leadership (information available in Lattimore 312). A certificate in Biotechnology is administered by the Program in Biology and Medicine, and one in Stage Management by the Department of English.

Independent Study
Independent study allows you to study areas of special interest to you under individual faculty guidance. You may want to continue coursework you found exciting. You may want to learn about something for which no formal course exists. Independent study makes it possible for you to work with a faculty member in her or his area of interest. For many students, this is a welcome change from formal classes where the opportunity to develop a good rapport with a professor may be limited.

You may have something specific in mind and approach a faculty member directly to see if he or she will sponsor your work. Most students need to do some exploration first and find the website of the Office of Undergraduate Research to be helpful. It’s at http://www.rochester.edu/college/ugresearch/. Talk this over with your Undergraduate Advisor or an advisor in Advising Services. They should be able to help you find a faculty member who is eligible to teach such a course; he or she must be a full-time member of the teaching faculty.

If you get this far, you and the instructor will have to write a proposal. Visit http://www.rochester.edu/registrar/formrequests.html for the necessary form and instructions.

Internships
Internships give you the opportunity to learn and potentially earn credit for things not taught in the classroom. Internships enable you to work in off-campus research and service centers, in local businesses, in local and national government, and even abroad. Internships can carry from one to 16 credits.

If you would like to pursue an internship, talk to an Independent Studies advisor in the Center for Advising Services. She or he will be able to provide information on internships available to Rochester students, as well as detailed information on procedures to follow. You should know that students who wish to earn academic credit for an internship are required to have a faculty or staff supervisor who will work with you to discuss the academic work that will accompany your on-site experience.

The Gwen M. Greene Career and Internship Center also has detailed information on internships.

Study Abroad
Many students take advantage of the opportunity to earn credits overseas for a year, a semester, a summer, or a short term program. Information sessions are offered frequently by the Center for Education Abroad, and students are encouraged to learn about their many options early in their college careers. A wide range of courses in the humanities, social sciences, natural sciences and engineering are available in more than 40 countries, and new programs are added regularly to meet students’ needs and interests.

3-2 Programs
A variety of 3-2 programs allows you to complete and receive a Bachelor’s degree after four years and a Master’s degree after the fifth year. However, you will have to sacrifice about one year of undergraduate study and you will be younger and less experienced than your fellow graduate students. You can only decide if a 3-2 Program is right for you after careful consideration. Here are some of the areas in which these programs are offered: Business Administration, Engineering, Public Health, and Human Development.

Take Five Scholars Program
This program, unique to the University of Rochester and going strong for well over 20 years, permits those students accepted into it to pursue an intellectual passion in a new area that they wouldn’t have time to study during their normal four years. The additional semester or year is tuition-free. Students are eligible to apply once they’ve been admitted formally into their major and no later than the first semester of the senior year. Information is available online and in the Center for Advising Services; it’s never too soon to see if this program may be right for you.

Prestigious Fellowships
The Fellowships Office located in Dewey Hall assists students applying for many national academic awards, such as Beinecke, Fulbright, Goldwater, Rhodes, and Truman. Although the majority of these awards support advanced study abroad or in the U.S. after the completion of a bachelor’s degree, some provide merit scholarships for undergraduate study. The first-year year is an appropriate time to consider these wonderful opportunities.

E5 Program
The E5 (Experiential-Five) Program permits students to apply for a fifth year of tuition-free study in order to launch a project that generates value, whether social or economic in nature. The E5 program (formerly known as the KEY Program) has supported students who have launched new businesses, developed new programs, and designed innovative technologies. Further information is available in the Center for Advising Services.

The College provides a vast array of scholarships, loans, and work opportunities to help each student make a University of Rochester education a reality. Eligibility for aid is reviewed each year and adjustments are made, when necessary, based on changes to a family’s financial strength or changes in sibling undergraduate enrollment. The family contribution is based upon an analysis of the financial aid application materials provided by each student. Every application is individually reviewed so that factors such as assets, family size, and number in college are considered in addition to family income. While aid is not guaranteed, in general, if the family’s financial situation is similar from year to year and all application guidelines are met, the financial aid package should be similar from year to year.

Students who apply for need-based aid will be notified of the specific application requirements during the fall semester. Applications must be submitted by March 15th. Returning students who do not submit their financial aid application with all supporting documentation by March 15th should be aware that they are not guaranteed full consideration for need-based University grant assistance and may have their University funding reduced due to limited funding. The Financial Aid Office will contact students regarding any outstanding requirements via email. Financial aid awards will be made available for returning students by the end of May or early June if all application requirements are completed by the deadline.

Merit-based assistance is renewed each year and does not require an application.

After your financial aid award has been determined, you may be required to submit additional information to the office before your aid will disburse to your billing account.
Please note that if you do not complete these requirements in a timely manner, your financial aid will be cancelled from your bill and you will be responsible for the balance owed. The Financial Aid Office will send email notifications of outstanding requirements as well as a notification prior to the canceling of financial aid.

For the 2019-2020 academic year, the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) will be available on October 1, 2018 as well as the CSS PROFILE through the College Board. Both forms will use prior-prior year income from tax returns already on file with the IRS (e.g. 2017 income for the 2019-20 applications).

Here we welcome those who strongly identify with a religious tradition, those who question or have no affiliation and everyone in between. For over forty years, the Interfaith Chapel has been a place for students to grow in their religious, spiritual and cultural identity through worship and ritual, by connecting with faith communities, engaging in service opportunities, learning about many faith traditions, and exploring/deepening their own faith and values. We foster interfaith cooperation and understanding along with deepening of one’s own faith commitments, if any.

Located opposite Rush Rhees Library, between the Eastman Quadrangle and the Genesee River, the Interfaith Chapel is a symbolic beacon of and focal point for the diverse religious traditions within the University community. Its three levels offer areas for worship, concerts, weddings, student programs, meetings, and quiet study. During the academic year, the Chapel is open from 8:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. You may contact the Interfaith Chapel at 585-275-4321 or visit our web site at www.rochester.edu/chapel. Director: Jim Chodak

Parking on campus is by permit only Monday through Friday from 7:30 am to 7 pm for students, employees, and visitors. Resident freshmen are not eligible to purchase a parking permit. Parking for resident students is offered by lottery to those who pre-register (freshmen are not eligible for the lottery). Priority is by class year. It is possible that all permits may be awarded before all requests are fulfilled. As an alternative many resident students make use of the shuttle buses and RTS bus service to go between University properties and community activities. Free University sponsored shuttle buses providing service from the more distant lots to the campus run various times weekdays when school is in session. Commuter students wishing to drive themselves to campus during the year will need to purchase a River Campus parking permit. For more detailed information, please contact the Parking Management Center at 275-4524.

Transportation services provide shuttles to the River Campus, Eastman School of Music, Medical Center, South Campus, and area shopping locations. Late-night shuttling routes are provided for those working or studying into the evening hours. Our UR Connections program is a campaign to promote options from bringing a car to campus. Whether your interest is in renting a Zipcar by the hour, riding the RTS, carpooling or vanpooling with friends, or jumping on your bicycle, UR Connections provides you choices that save you money and our environment. All of these alternative transportation options are listed on our website, www.rochester.edu/parking. Our car-sharing program, Zipcar, is available to reserve at the Medical Center, River Campus, Riverview Apartments, Whipple Park and Eastman School of Music. The First-year Hill includes Susan B. Anthony Halls, the largest single residence hall on the River Campus, and Genesee Hall, the newest residence hall on the River Campus. Both buildings are first year living areas. Sue B., originally built in 1955 as the Women’s Residence Hall, is now co-ed and houses approximately 650 students. Each floor has two lounges and a small kitchen. On the first floor there is a large lounge, a meeting room and a media room. Danforth Dining, Hillside Market and the Dining Services/ID Card Service Center are also on the first floor. Genesee Hall opened in August, 2017, and houses approximately 150 students on 4 residential floors. Two floors of the building host athletic facilities and training rooms for men’s and women’s field sports. The main entry floor – the Courtyard Level – features meeting rooms, study rooms and event space for use by the entire campus community. Four residential floors crown the newest building on campus. Each residential floor has a lounge and study space, as well as an all-gender bathroom suite with six, fully equipped individual use bathrooms. Genesee Hall is air conditioned.

The First-year Quad includes Gilbert, Hoeing, and Tiernan Halls. Occasionally, first year students are housed in Lovejoy Hall as well. All of these buildings are co-ed with a combination of co-ed and single-gender hallways. Hoeing, and Tiernan are medium-sized halls featuring floor lounges and kitchenettes, seminar rooms, music practice rooms, and a large social lounge with patio (Tiernan). Gilbert is the largest building on the Quad, with more than 350 residents. It has floor and study lounges, kitchenettes, and a very large programming area with a patio.

UPPERCLASS LIVING PROGRAM: (THE COURTS, THE FRATERNITY QUAD & UNDERGRADUATE APARTMENTS)

THE COURTS: (JACKSON COURT, & HILL COURT)

Hill Court Office: 112 Gale House
Phone: (585) 273-5853
Jackson Court Office: 114 O’Brien Hall
Phone: (585) 276-4682

The Towers house approximately 500 students primarily in six-person suites. O’Brien Hall houses about 140 students in double and single rooms in a traditional corridor style configuration. There are also double and single rooms with private and semi-private bathrooms. A wide variety of special interest housing programs are located in Anderson and Wilder Towers. The complex includes meeting and seminar rooms, music practice rooms, and a game room. There are also study lounges and TV lounges in O’Brien Hall. Each floor in Anderson and Wilder has a floor kitchen. The Service Desk in O’Brien Hall keeps supplies and equipment available for student use.

FRATERNITY QUAD AND UNDERGRADUATE APARTMENTS

Area Office Location: B114 Sigma Phi Epsilon House (rear entrance on Fraternity Rd)
Phone: (585) 276-6839
E-mail (Southside): southside@reslife.rochester.edu
E-mail (Riverview): riverview@reslife.rochester.edu
E-mail (Brooks Crossing): brookscrossing@reslife.rochester.edu
E-mail (Fraternity Quad): FraternityQuad@reslife.rochester.edu

Southside features deKiewiet and Valentine Towers and the Maisonettes offering unique apartment-style accommodations. The towers are a pair of high rise apartment buildings. The Maisonettes are the small houses at the base of the Towers and are for juniors and seniors only. Located three blocks from the River Campus science complex and adjacent to athletic fields, the Erie Canal, and Genesee Valley Park Southside features private bedrooms in two- and three-bedroom apartments with kitchen and bath.

The Riverview Apartments are located on the west side of the river, across the footbridge. Approximately 500 students live in Riverview in two-, three-, and four-bedroom apartments. Each apartment has a full kitchen and living room and is furnished. Each student room has its own private bathroom. The complex is also air-conditioned.

Brooks Crossing Apartments are located on the west side of the river, adjacent to the Staybridge Suites hotel. Housing 170 students, this air-conditioned apartment complex features one-, two-, three-, and four-bedroom apartments with full kitchens, furnished living rooms and a private bathroom for each resident.

The Fraternity Quad (including Drama House, Douglass Leadership House, Burton Hall, Crosby Hall, ΣΧ, ΣAM, ΣΦΕ, ΨΥ, ΘΧ, ΑΔΦ, ΔΚΕ) includes nine houses and two upperclass residence halls. Two of the houses are Academic Living Centers, which are academically-focused, leadership-based student communities. Burton and Crosby halls are upperclass residence halls adjacent to the Fraternity Quad and managed by the Fraternity Quad complex office. Burton and Crosby are home to the InterClass Living Community, and GreenSpace special interest housing communities.

HOUSING ALTERNATIVES: SPECIAL INTEREST HOUSING

The term Special Interest Housing refers to groups of upperclass students living in the same area (i.e., floor, hall, house) who are united by a common interest. There are Academic Living Centers located in houses on the Fraternity Quad including the Drama House, and the Douglass Leadership House. Special Interest Housing groups are placed in the residence halls. These include the Computer Interest Floor, the Anime Interest Floor, the InterClass Living Community, the Music Interest Floor, and GreenSpace. Several fraternities and sororities occupy special interest housing areas in the residence halls. More information on Fraternity and Sorority Affairs and their activities can be found in the UR Guide to Fraternities and Sororities available in Fraternity and Sorority Affairs, 201 Wilson Commons, or on the Campus Community Connection website.

Special Interest Housing membership is selected just before the room drawings each year. If you want to join a group, you must submit an application to that group. Application deadlines are usually well advertised, but if you are interested in a particular special interest group, contact them during the year to let them know. Selection is completed before the regular room drawing, so if you are not accepted to a special interest program, you will still be able to participate in room selection.

RESIDENCE HALL STUDENT STAFF AND PEER LEADERS

Resident Advisors/Community Assistants

Floors in the residence halls are staffed by Resident Advisors (RAs.) In the Brooks Crossing and Riverview Apartments, Community Assistants (CAs), all of whom are specially selected and trained upperclassmen. These students help undergraduates with problems and can provide information on adjusting to college life. One Graduate House Advisor (GHA) lives in each of the nine houses on the Fraternity Quad. Many students develop close relationships with their RAs, CAs, and GHAs, but even if they do not, they still benefit from their presence. Graduate Head Residents (GHRs) and Resident Directors (RDs) oversee and help with the work of RAs, CAs, and GHAs. If you are having trouble with something, talk to the student staff member for your hall. She or he will be able to help or point you in the direction of someone who can help.

Students who wish to become RAs should fill out an application in mid-fall. Successful candidates take a leadership course in the spring term as preparation. The competition is tough, but those selected have the opportunity to help others build life-long skills.

- D’Lions
The D’Lions are predominantly sophomore men and women who live in first-year residence halls. The D’Lion Organization is a club, and therefore not specifically a part of Residential Life staff, but they work closely with RAs to promote a community atmosphere and hall spirit. Applications for D’Lions are due each spring, and are reviewed by the current year’s D’Lions.

- First-year Fellows
  First-year Fellows are specially selected upperclass students interested in living in first-year communities and serving as mentors and role models. Applications for First-year Fellows are due each spring, and are reviewed by the First-year Fellow selection committee.

- EcoReps
  EcoReps are enthusiastic first-year students who apply for the position during the summer prior to arriving on campus. There is typically one on each floor in the first-year residence halls. Their role is to educate the students in their halls on environmental issues like waste reduction and energy conservation by helping to plan activities and events highlighting conservation and sustainability. EcoReps also take a class on Ecology and Sustainability to prepare them to be peer leaders.

- Upperclass EcoReps
  Upperclass EcoReps are students who express a strong interest in sustainability issues. These are students who wish to promote sustainability and environmentally aware practices among their peers in upperclass residence halls.

- Hall Councils
  Hall councils are student-led groups responsible for representing students’ social and residential needs and interests. They administer a social fund to plan events and activities for their area. Joining a hall council is a good way to have fun while making a difference in your residential area.

- Residence Hall Association
  The Residence Hall Association, or RHA, is an organization of student leaders from the residence halls who are committed to supporting the work of the Hall Councils; to enhancing collaboration among Special Interest Housing groups and the Hall Councils; to serving as advocates for residential students for issues related to residence hall living; and to enhancing leadership and recognition opportunities for residential students. RHA at the University of Rochester is a member of the National Association of College and University Residence Halls (NACURH)

BASIC INFORMATION

- Check In/Check Out
  When checking in or out of your room, examine its condition and contents before signing the Room Condition Form. This could prevent you from being charged for damages for which you may not be responsible.

- Roommates and Roommate Agreements
  Almost all first-year and sophomore students have one or more roommates. Residence Hall staff works with you during Orientation week to complete a roommate agreement that outlines mutual expectations for everything from noise, guests, and borrowing each other’s property. If roommates have trouble living together, we provide lots of support and mediation to help you work it out. If all else fails, there is a process for requesting a room change.

- Furniture
  All student rooms are furnished with a bed, desk, chair, dresser, and wardrobe for each occupant. Students may bring additional furnishings, in compliance with State and University fire safety regulations (which can be found on the Residential Life website.) Students may not remove any furniture from their designated room.

Television and Internet
Every student room and residence hall lounge has ResTV service providing local and national entertainment networks and a wide variety of educational channels, including HBO. Students also receive access to HBO-GO for viewing content on their personal computers, tablets and phones. Wired high speed internet is available with a dedicated port for each occupant of the room. WiFi is widely available and accessible throughout campus and in every residence hall.

Heating
Heat in the residence halls turns on when the temperature falls to a predetermined level as measured by many thermostats located throughout the buildings. When students open their windows to regulate the heat in their room, this can cause the building-wide thermostat system to sense cold air, and respond with even more heat. If you find that you frequently need to regulate the heat in your room by opening the window, or if there is anything else wrong with your heat, submit a work order to University Facilities by calling (585) 273-4567, or report on-line at www.facilities.rochester.edu.

Laundry
Laundry facilities are located in each building. The cost of laundry is included in your housing charges during the academic year.

Susan B. Anthony, Genesee Hall, Southside (deKiewiet, Valentine and the Maionettes), Brooks Crossing and Riverview apartments will remain open during winter break. Residents of those buildings who wish to stay through the winter break must register with their Area Office. Students who live in other areas may not remain in their rooms. In late November, information will be available about how to secure a place to stay in one of the open complexes.

Insurance for Belongings
Students’ personal property brought to the University is not covered for damage or loss by the University’s insurance. We strongly suggest you review your family’s renters or homeowners’ insurance to determine what is covered by that policy or can be covered with a rider to that policy. Specifically review policy language related to theft of your property because many policies may cover damage but not loss. The University has also identified additional sources that provide insurance coverage for residence hall students. The University usually mails this material to you during the summer. While we cannot endorse these companies, we do recommend you review all the options and obtain coverage in case your property is damaged or lost.

The Center for Student Conflict Management helps students become positive community members during their college careers and beyond through:

- Education about the principles of the University of Rochester community including Fairness, Freedom, Honesty, Inclusion, Respect, and Responsibility
- By holding students personally accountable to the community through our conduct system
- By offering access to and training in the conflict resolution processes
- Coordination of support for students who may be struggling at the University through the assistance of our CARE network
- Alcohol and Other Drug education and connection to appropriate treatment resources

Student Conduct: Students who may have acted in a manner that is inconsistent with the Standards of Student Conduct of the University of Rochester may meet with a staff member from the CSCM to discuss the incident and develop a plan for how to move forward. Depending upon the circumstances of the incident, the issue may be resolved in an initial meeting, a hearing, or participation in an alternative dispute resolution process.

CARE Network: Students in or heading toward distress may be identified through the CARE system in hopes of connecting them to appropriate campus resources. Faculty, staff, and students in the College are welcome to submit a CARE report about a student of concern at www.rochester.edu/care. The Student Support Network (SSN) and CARE Team work together to identify allies and offices on campus that can best support the student in need.

Alcohol and Other Drug Education: Alcohol and Other Drug Education: Students who have questions about reducing negative consequences associated with heavy, episodic drinking and other substance abuse are encouraged to utilize our multidimensional alcohol and other drug education program. The program offers support, education, and services for students at UR. In addition, the program plans, implements and evaluates prevention programming on campus which aim to decrease the negative impact that alcohol/other drug use can have on our community. To learn more about the program, visit https://www.rochester.edu/college/cscm/AOD.

CENTER FOR EDUCATION ABROAD

Location: Dewey 2-161
Phone: (585) 275-7532
E-mail: abroad@rochester.edu
Web site: www.rochester.edu/abroad

Director: Tynelle Stewart, Assistant Dean and Director

Education abroad is open to students in all majors and you don’t need to know a foreign language to be eligible! Programs are offered in English or other languages in more than 40 countries. Almost one third of UR students go abroad during a semester, an academic year, summer, or other short term. The office is staffed by academic counselors, peer advisors, and office assistants. You may also contact an Education Abroad Ambassador about programs of interest. Students can find a comprehensive list of programs in the Education Abroad Portal accessible on the Center for Education Abroad website. http://www.rochester.edu/College/abroad/
The first step to learning about education abroad is to attend an Education Abroad General Information Meeting. Every student should plan early, especially science and engineering majors as their best opportunities may be as sophomores. The annual Global Fair takes place in the fall semester and is a great resource for students to learn more about education abroad. Education abroad advisors and peer advisors are available to help with program selection, applications, and determining how education abroad will fit into degree requirements. Note that education abroad does not delay graduation; students may earn transfer credit toward majors, minors, or clusters.

UR-administered aid applies towards the cost of any UR semester or academic year program and the cost of a semester abroad is about the same as a semester at UR. We also advise students about scholarships for which they may be eligible. UR programs are currently available in the following countries: Argentina, Australia, Austria, Belgium, Bermuda, Botswana, Chile, China, Czech Republic, Denmark, Ecuador, France, Germany, Ghana, Greece, Guinea, Hong Kong, Hungary, Indonesia, Israel, Ireland, Italy, Japan, Jordan, Macau, Malawi, Malaysia, Mexico, Morocco, Netherlands, New Zealand, Peru, Poland, Russia, Senegal, Singapore, South Africa, South Korea, Spain, Sweden, Taiwan, Thailand, United Arab Emirates, and the United Kingdom. Students are not restricted to these programs or countries. Students interested in education abroad have an enhanced selection of opportunities in exchange programs, which offer students the option of directly enrolling for a semester or year of study at select partner institutions. Direct enrollment provides undergraduates the opportunity to explore and study abroad in a more independent, self-directed way by integrating fully into the campus community as a full-time student. Students who participate in an exchange program are eligible to receive a $2,000 grant.

Short-term programs offer a targeted academic focus. Some of our options are Russian in Russia, Digital Archaeology in Ghana, Dance and Music in Guinea. Visit our website to see more.

Education abroad may be combined with other special academic opportunities such as Take Five, Honors Research, certificates, Senior Scholars, and more. Education abroad advisors are available in Dewey 2-161 to help students integrate special interests into their academic program. You can also contact us if you’re interested in hosting an information session in your residence hall or for your student group.

OFFICE OF SUMMER AND PART-TIME STUDIES

Location: 120 Lattimore Hall
Phone: 275-2345
Website: www.rochester.edu/summer
Director: Crystal Cusimano-Figueroa

We encourage intellectual growth in a community of summer scholars that promotes the University’s tradition of academic excellence. Each year, matriculated students and visitors alike come to study in the College to benefit from the distinguished faculty, innovative courses, flexible sessions, and outstanding facilities.

Summer in the College can be the ideal time to try something new, to lessen a future course load, repeat an important course that may not have gone well, or for students who have fallen behind, take steps to catch up. Over 75 courses are offered on campus that span the curriculum, with many others taught abroad.

Many students take advantage of the glorious weather while participating in the special activities available on campus and throughout the community, and choose to live on campus.

HEALTH CARE SERVICE

The University Health Service (UHS) provides primary health care services for all full-time University students on a prepaid basis through the Student Health Plan. The University Health Service offers a wide range of medical services, including treatment for illnesses and injuries, management of ongoing medical problems, and care and advice for any health concerns. Health promotion services are provided through the UHS Health Promotion Office.

The medical staff of the University Health Service includes physicians, nurse practitioners, and registered nurses. UHS physicians are board certified and have faculty appointments in the School of Medicine and Dentistry. Continuity of care is a high priority. Upon entering the University, all full-time students are assigned a primary care provider (PCP) at the University Health Service. Students are encouraged to schedule appointments with their UHS primary care provider whenever possible.

The Student Health Plan consists of two parts: (1) Mandatory Health Fee and (2) Health Insurance. All full-time students pay the mandatory health fee, which covers visits to the University Health Service (UHS) and the University Counseling Center (UCC) throughout the year (August 1 through July 31) as long as the student remains a full-time student. All full-time students must also have health insurance coverage. Many students remain on their parent’s or their own insurance and waive the University-sponsored insurance. For more information about the mandatory health fee and health insurance, see Student Health Plan-Paying for Services (below).

LOCATIONS

The University Health Service has offices on the River Campus, in the Medical Center and at the Eastman School of Music. Whenever possible, students will be seen in the office closest to where they live; however, students are welcome to schedule an appointment at any one of the UHS offices. Visits to UHS are by appointment. Appointments are scheduled by calling UHS at 585-275-2662. The UHS office on the River Campus is located on the first floor of the UHS Building.

CONFIDENTIALITY

The relationship between UHS health care providers and their patients is confidential. Notification of others, including parents, friends, and University faculty and administration, is considered the student’s responsibility unless the condition is life-threatening and the student is unable to assume responsibility for informing others. Parental notification and consent will be obtained for students under age 18, as required by law.

AFTER HOURS CARE

The University Health Service (UHS) provides access to medical care 24 hours a day, 7 days a week throughout the calendar year. Whenever the UHS offices are closed, a UHS physician is on-call and available by phone (585-275-2662) from home for urgent concerns that cannot wait until the offices re-open. The University Counseling Center (UCC) also provides access to care 24 hours a day, 7 days a week throughout the calendar year. Whenever the UCC office is closed, a mental health professional is on-call and available by phone (585-275-3113). For more information about the University Counseling Center, see page 163.

VISITS TO AN EMERGENCY DEPARTMENT

With the exception of life-threatening illnesses and serious accidents, students should call UHS at 585-275-2662 before going to a hospital emergency department when they are in the Rochester area. Students needing more extensive or urgent care than can be provided at the UHS offices will be referred to the emergency department of Strong Memorial Hospital. In a medical emergency, students should call Public Safety at 585-275-3333 for assistance. The River Campus Medical Emergency Response Team (RC/MERT) responds to medical emergencies on campus. Students who are off-campus should call 911 for assistance in a medical emergency.

PURCHASING MEDICINES

Prescription medications are often an important part of the treatment plan. In most cases, the safety and effectiveness of a medication depends on taking it exactly as prescribed and for as long as prescribed. Your UHS primary care provider (PCP) will be glad to discuss questions about prescribed medications.

The University Health Service does not have a pharmacy; however, several of the prescription medications most commonly prescribed by UHS health care providers are available for purchase in the UHS medical offices. UHS sells birth control pills often at a lower cost than area pharmacies. To purchase prescription medications at UHS, you need a prescription written by a UHS health care provider. If the prescription medication you need is not available at UHS, you may want to check with pharmacies in the area (e.g., the employee pharmacy in the UR Medical Center, CVS, Wegmans, or others nearby) for the best price. Prices for prescription medications vary considerably; no one pharmacy has the lowest price on all drugs.

Several over-the-counter medicines (e.g., ibuprofen, decongestants) are also available for purchase in the UHS medical offices. The cost is generally lower than at other locations on campus. Students purchasing medicines at UHS can charge the cost to their tuition billing statement.

UHS HEALTH PROMOTION OFFICE

The UHS Health Promotion Office is located on the second floor of the UHS Building. This office provides services and programs to help students make informed decisions about their personal health and learn to use the health care services available to them. Programs can be designed to meet the interests and needs of any group. Students are encouraged to become involved in health promotion activities by enrolling in the Peer Health Advocacy course (PH 216), joining the UR Student Health Advisory Committee (URSHAC), co-sponsoring a program, or working on a special project or committee. For more information, call 585-273-5775.

PATIENT ADVOCATE

The health care staff of University Health Service is committed to delivering high quality care. We welcome suggestions regarding any aspect of the care and service you receive. Comments and suggestions can be directed to the UHS staff member providing the care and/or services, to the UR Student Health Advisory Committee (URSHAC), to the UHS Patient Advocate, or to the UHS Director. The UHS Patient Advocate will listen and help resolve grievances, questions, or needs of patients or their families in regard to any aspect of health care they are receiving from the University Health Service. The Patient Advocate can be reached at 585-273-5770, or Ldudman@uhs.rochester.edu, through the UHS website (Contact UHS), or by mail (UHS, Box 270472, Rochester, NY, 14627). The Patient Advocate’s office is located on the second floor of the UHS Building.

UR STUDENT HEALTH ADVISORY COMMITTEE (URSHAC)

Students can have an impact on health care services offered for students by joining the UR Student Health Advisory Committee (URSHAC). Members meet with the UHS Director throughout the academic year to share students’ perspectives on health care issues and to express student views concerning UHS. Meetings are open to all students. For information about the committee, check www.rochester.edu/uhs/urshac or contact the URSHAC staff advisor at 585-273-5770 or ldudman@uhs.rochester.edu.

STUDENT HEALTH PLAN - PAYING FOR SERVICES

Mandatory Health Fee: All full-time students pay the mandatory health fee. This fee covers the cost of primary care visits with physicians, nurse practitioners, and registered nurses at the University Health Service (UHS); time-limited psychotherapy at the University Counseling Center (UCC); health promotion services and public health/disease prevention programs offered through the University Health Service. Coverage is from August 1 through July 31. The mandatory health fee does not cover health care services received outside the University Health Service or the University Counseling Center.

Health Insurance: All full-time students must also have health insurance. Students can enroll in the University-sponsored insurance or they can remain on their own or their parents’ health insurance if their plan meets University insurance criteria. Requests to waive the University-sponsored insurance may be audited to assure compliance with University insurance criteria. Many undergraduates choose to remain on their parents’ insurance plan. Health insurance generally covers the cost of services such as hospitalization, diagnostic laboratory tests and x-rays, and surgical procedures, either fully or partially, depending on the specific benefits of the plan. Students should carry their health insurance card with them whenever seeking health care. It is helpful for students to have an understanding of what their insurance covers and when a referral is needed. Students are responsible for paying charges not covered by their health insurance.

ONLINE INSURANCE PROCESS – REQUIRED FOR ALL FULL-TIME STUDENTS

Each year every full-time student must complete the Online Insurance Process by September 15 to enroll or waive the University-sponsored insurance plan. Information about the University-sponsored health insurance plan is available on the UHS website (www.rochester.edu/uhs). The link to the Online Insurance Process is in the Quick Links box on the UHS homepage. Students who do not complete this online process by the deadline will be enrolled in the University-sponsored health insurance and billed accordingly. Students with questions about health insurance can contact a UHS Insurance Advisor at insurance@uhs.rochester.edu for assistance.

UNIVERSITY COUNSELING CENTER (UCC)

Director: Joellen Popma, PhD
Location: UHS Building, 3rd Floor
The University Counseling Center (UCC) provides evaluation, counseling, and referral services. All interested University of Rochester students who pay the mandatory student health fee will receive a comprehensive initial assessment, individualized treatment plan, and support to put such a plan into action. UCC staff will develop a treatment program with each client to address their unique needs and concerns. UCC staff members strive to provide services with sensitivity to individual and cultural differences.

The individualized treatment plan may include referral to group therapy, workshops, therapist assisted on-line therapy or brief therapy at the UCC as well as information, case management support and referral to campus or community agencies for specialty or long-term services. UCC therapists are licensed professionals and professionals-in-training from a variety of mental health disciplines. They employ many treatment approaches and draw upon a wide range of training and experiences in the field of psychotherapy.

Therapy is available for a wide variety of problems that may include anxiety, depression, relationship difficulties, family problems, grief, school related problems, and general discomfort about what’s happening in a person’s life, among many other sorts of difficulties. UCC also offers a variety of therapy/support groups on topics such as: Cognitive and Behavioral Therapy for anxiety and depression, survivors of sexual abuse, eating/body image, LGBTQ, and general concerns.

UCC is extremely careful to protect the confidentiality of student records. University Counseling Center records are available only to those professionals directly involved with the care of the student. Information about visits will not be disclosed without the student’s written permission to any University official or faculty member, or to family, friends or roommates except in very specific circumstances. Those circumstances are limited to instances when the student’s life or that of another person is in danger and to the very rare occasions when we are presented with a subpoena.

Additionally, for evaluation purposes, we will not provide clinical information, even with the student’s permission, to current or future employers or to agencies of the government, etc. We will, with the written request of the student, provide clinical information to another professional for the purposes of their further treatment.

After Hours Care: A professional-on-call is available after business hours throughout the year to deal with urgent situations and may be reached at 585-275-3113.

ENVIRONMENTAL HEALTH AND SAFETY (EH&S)

Location: 685 Mt. Hope Avenue
Phone: 585-275-3241
Fax: 585-274-0001
Web site: www.safety.rochester.edu
Hours: Monday - Friday 8:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m. (all year)
After Hours: Emergency service is available by calling Public Safety at X13.
Director: Mark Cavanaugh

EH&S is responsible for minimizing environmental health and safety hazards throughout the University. Its areas of concern include chemical safety, biosafety, fire safety, emergency management, food and drinking water safety/sanitation, occupational safety, laboratory safety, structural pest control, environmental compliance and radiation safety.

As a student you will probably have the most contact with three units of EH&S: Fire Marshal’s Office, Pest Control Unit, and the Sanitarian’s Office.

The Fire Marshal’s Office is responsible for all aspects of maximizing fire safety, including testing and inspecting fire protection equipment, conducting fire drills, providing training in fire safety, and performing inspections for fire safety and compliance with applicable codes. Visit www.safety.rochester.edu/homepages/fsu_homepage.html for a list of prohibited items and other important fire safety information.

The Pest Control Unit provides control of pests (cockroaches, ants, mice, rats, etc.) by use of traps, baits, pesticide treatments, and through preventive measures. The unit has a policy of minimizing the use of pesticides and using the least toxic methods available to achieve control. The University is recognized as a leader in Integrated Pest Management. Prevention is a crucial component of control, and you should use certain precautions to prevent infestation by pests. Always keep food in pest-proof containers. If you see any evidence of pests, you should call EH&S promptly.

The Sanitarian’s Office is responsible for monitoring all aspects of food handling, for routinely inspecting all food service facilities, and for providing sanitation training for food handlers, all with a view towards minimizing the risk of food borne illnesses. If you see or have a food safety problem, contact the Sanitarian’s Office. You should also contact the Sanitarian’s Office if you plan an event where food is sold or served, since you may be required to obtain certain permits and to meet the same sanitation standards as the commercial food service facilities.

The Occupational Safety Unit is responsible for evaluating the risks of hazards to staff members at the University and for providing guidance to minimize these risks.

The Radiation Safety Unit is responsible for evaluating the risks of ionizing radiation and radioactive materials, and for providing guidance in order to minimize these risks. Radiation Safety provides training programs addressing use of ionizing radiation and radioactive materials, tests equipment using ionizing radiation and responds to emergencies.

The Environmental Compliance Unit is responsible for managing the disposal of chemical waste and other types of regulated waste with the exception of infectious waste. Services provided include chemical waste pickups, assistance with chemical storage and disposal.

The Laboratory Safety Unit is responsible for evaluating the risks of chemical or biological materials/agents to staff members and students. The unit provides training programs addressing personal safety, the use of chemical and biological hazards and responds to emergencies such as chemical spills.

FIRE SAFETY

UNIVERSITY’S FIRE MARSHAL’S OFFICE

Location: 685 Mt. Hope Avenue
Phone: 585-275-3241
Fax: 585-274-0001
Web site: www.safety.rochester.edu
Hours: Monday - Friday, 8:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m. (all year)

On August 1, 1987, Monroe County No Smoking Legislation went into effect which restricts smoking in public places. The University prohibits smoking and tobacco use, including cigarettes, cigars, pipes, hookahs, clove cigarettes, pipe tobacco, snuff, smokeless, oral or spit tobacco and the use of electronic cigarettes at all times on University property. This includes all of its buildings, residence hall and grounds, clinics, laboratories, classroom, private offices, plazas, vestibules, loading docks and University-owned or leased vehicles and at University-sponsored events in all locations, except in designated smoking huts. All members of the community are expected to observe these regulations. For fire evacuation plans, see EH&S Emergency Evacuation Information found in your Residential Life Enrollment Packets or visit our web site

http://www.safety.rochester.edu/fire/pdf/2_0_RC_Fire_Evac_Plan.pdf

To Report Smoke or Fire:
- Activate the building fire alarm system. Manual pull stations are usually located near exit stairwells on all floors and at the exit doors. This alarm signal will automatically be relayed to the Public Safety Dispatch.
- Call Public Safety (X13 or 275-3333) from a safe location. Tell the Public Safety Dispatcher your name and the specific place and nature of the emergency.

When an Alarm Rings:
Follow RACE:
Rescue and relocate anyone in immediate danger
Activate building fire alarm to alert others and report the incident.
Confine the fire by closing all doors
Evacuate the building using the closest exit and move a safe distance away from the building.
- Do not use elevators! They may not take you to safety.
- Do not return to the building until instructed by the fire department or a University representative.
- Should you be trapped in your room, close and seal the doors. Most buildings will not contribute fuel, but its contents will. Call Public Safety (X13) and tell them your location.

FIRE ALARMS AND EXTINGUISHERS
Smoke and/or heat detectors have been installed in all rooms to provide early detection of fire and also to provide early warning of fire to occupants. Accordingly, there is no cooking allowed in student rooms at any time. To avoid false alarms, residents should never leave food to cook unattended in kitchen or kitchenettes or allow exceptional concentration of shower steam to escape into the area of the detector. The University has installed sprinkler systems in all of our on-campus residence halls. These systems will quickly contain a fire should one occur in a room. The disconnection or tampering of room smoke detectors or sprinklers will result in appropriate disciplinary action by the College.

Students should be aware of the location of the fire alarm pull stations and extinguishers in their areas. Students are encouraged not to use fire extinguishers during a fire unless they have been properly trained in the use of fire extinguishers within the last year, a clear exit path, knowledge of material that is on fire, the correct fire extinguisher and the building fire alarm has been activated. They should never reenter the building once out. Fire Marshal’s Office personnel periodically check fire extinguishers to ensure they are in good operating condition, as well as check the building for fire hazards.

Persons not responding to a drill or found tampering with fire alarms or fire extinguishers will be subject to disciplinary action by the College. The New York State Education Law requires three fire drills be held in each academic building on campus during the academic year. Four fire drills per year are mandated in residence halls. At least one drill must be held during the hours after sunset and before sunrise in a building in which students are provided with sleeping accommodations.

The Fire Marshal’s Office and the New York State Office of Fire Prevention and Control make fire prevention and safety inspections of all residence halls during the year. Resident Advisers may be asked to accompany inspectors if necessary to enter student rooms. If you come across a fire hazard or have a fire safety concern, contact your resident adviser or the Fire Marshal’s Office at 275-3243.

PROHIBITED UR ITEMS

- The use of candles, lanterns, lamps or any other items that produce an open flame are prohibited. Please call the Fire Marshal’s office at 275-3243 if candles are needed for religious purposes.

- All flammable materials, including BBQ grills or open flame devices (gas, lighter fluid, charcoal, propane, solvents, etc), all items powered by combustible fuels (such as motorcycles), and all corrosive (or poisonous) chemicals and hazardous materials are prohibited.
- Hover boards are prohibited.

COMMON FIRE HAZARDS FOUND IN RESIDENCE HALLS

- Areas with excessive combustible material (trash, cardboard, draperies, wood on walls, etc.)
- All electric cords extended through walls, ceilings, affixed to walls, under floor coverings or across corridors, etc. Overloaded circuits or frayed cords; extension cords; multi-plug extension cords (non-circuit protected)
- Exits blocked with furniture or debris and storage in corridors. (bicycles, boots/shoes and boot trays, refrigerators, furniture, boxes, luggage, etc.)
- Runners, door mats or other combustible floor coverings in hallways and suite corridors.
- Fire doors propped open
• Hair dryers, hair straighteners, popcorn poppers, coffee makers and microwaves are also considered to be fire hazards and should not be left unattended and should always be unplugged when not in use.
• Excessive clothes on the floor may present egress or tripping hazards in the event of an emergency. Keep rooms clean.
• Microwave and refrigerator need to be plugged directly into the wall outlet. They cannot be plugged into a power strip.

ADDITIONAL FIRE AND SAFETY INFORMATION
• Do not hang anything from the sprinkler head, sprinkler pipes or smoke detector in your room. The sprinkler head could break and flood the room and/or a smoke detector may malfunction.
• Do not tamper with any fire protection equipment. Report all vandalized equipment or suspicious people in your area to Public Safety, the Office of Residential Life or your Resident Adviser.
• Do not cover, remove or tamper with smoke detectors.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY
SERVING OUR COMMUNITY
The Department of Public Safety is comprised of approximately 160 full-time staff that provides uniformed patrol, investigative, crime prevention, victim assistance, and workplace violence services, and specialized programs tailored to specific campus needs. They respond to calls of any nature, including all campus emergencies -- fire, accidents, physical crimes and disturbances. Public Safety is a mixed force of sworn peace officers and public safety officers. Peace officers are able to make arrests due to the commission of a felony, misdemeanor, or other breach of peace based on probable cause, and can make mental health arrests - an authority that allows peace officers to intervene promptly in mental health emergencies. University peace officers carry batons and pepper foam as defensive weapons when dealing with potentially dangerous situations. Some Peace Officers carry firearms.
• Sworn unarmed peace officers will be deployed to roving posts (both on foot and in vehicles), to respond quickly to all areas of the University. In the spring of 2017, a limited number of Peace Officers who have been trained and certified by New York State Division of Criminal Justice Services will be authorized to carry handguns in specifically assigned areas. As noted above, peace officers will carry pepper gel and batons, while public safety officers will carry just pepper gel. The armed sworn peace officers will additionally carry handguns. Sworn armed peace officers will be assigned primarily to the University Medical Center in specialized duty assignments.
• All public safety officers are selected after a thorough investigation designed to choose individuals who are dedicated, sensitive, and display good communication skills. They hold a New York State license (requiring 32 hours of training) and receive an additional 560 hours of in-house basic training. Designated sworn peace officers complete at 600 more hours of New York State certified instruction from the municipal public safety-training center.
• Approximately 40 trained, part-time student aides assist our professional staff and work in selected areas of the campus and residence halls during the academic year. These students are in constant radio contact with us, should unauthorized persons or other conditions affecting general safety be discovered.

WE ARE IN THIS TOGETHER
Working together promotes awareness of the needs of one’s neighbors and fosters a sense of common purpose. The University is part of a larger, urban community in which crime is a constant reality. Maintaining a safe and secure community must be a cooperative undertaking. Public Safety staff alone cannot resolve every breach of good security practice.

A partnership is required. Here is what you can do:

• Attend at least one of the many personal safety seminars offered throughout the year and incorporate the ideas suggested into daily habits.
• Report hazards, keeping in mind the various means available to summon aid in an emergency.
• Pay attention to signs of possible risk and plan how to respond to these unexpected and unwanted situations.
• Remember, you are responsible for the actions of those you invite to campus while they are here. You can help by informing them of the University’s policies, rules, regulations and expectations for proper behavior.

The University of Rochester’s annual fire and safety reports include statistics for the previous three years concerning fire incidents and reported crimes that occurred on campus; in certain off-campus buildings owned or controlled by the University; and on public property within, or immediately adjacent to and accessible from, the University’s campuses. This report also includes institutional policies regarding campus security, fire safety, alcohol and drug use, crime prevention, the reporting of crimes, sexual assault, and other matters. You can obtain a copy, titled Think Safe, by calling 275-3340, or view the contents by accessing the following web site: http://www.publicsafety.rochester.edu.

The University of Rochester prohibits discrimination on the basis of sex, including acts of sexual harassment, sexual assault, dating and domestic violence and stalking. Information on the policies and procedures related to this prohibited behavior can be found online here: http://www.rochester.edu/eoc/index.html and by contacting Morgan Levy, the Title IX Coordinator for the University by phone at 275-7814 or via e-mail at Morgan.Levy@rochester.edu.

AUTHORITY

New York State Education Law requires the University to establish policies, regulations, and procedures for the maintenance of public order on its campuses and properties. These provisions are set forth in a “Standards of Conduct” statement adopted by the Board of Trustees on July 15, 1970, and published in the Faculty Handbook.

The Department of Public Safety is charged with providing general public safety services at the University, and takes steps to insure the maintenance of public order consistent with its mission. Peace Officer authority is outlined in the New York State Criminal Procedure Law, Article 2.10, Section 83.

Our department can communicate directly with the Rochester Police Department and other law enforcement agencies through the 911 Center and by direct radio contact with selected police units if a serious crime is committed in the University area. We have an excellent working relationship with area law enforcement agencies. Serving as the University’s liaison group, our staff works very closely, and is in regular contact with, these agencies. We routinely share information related to criminal activity. Criminal incidents and related information are recorded by us for statistical purposes. Students, faculty, staff and visitors to the University are encouraged to report promptly criminal incidents, sexual offenses or other emergencies by following the procedures under “How to Report a Crime.” You can report an incident in person at any University Public Safety office. “Blue Light” emergency telephones, which are connected directly to the Public Safety Dispatcher, are available throughout the University.
HOW TO CONTACT PUBLIC SAFETY

The University maintains an extensive network of over 500 interior and exterior public access telephones. You can call the Public Safety Communications Center for assistance at any time of the day or night from any of these phones. Included are over 185 direct-dial Blue Light Emergency Phones.

• In an EMERGENCY, dial x13 from any University phone, including service phones located at building entrances, or dial #413 from AT&T or Verizon cell phones. Dial 275-3333 from any other phone. Or pick up a Blue Light Emergency Phone located along pedestrian pathways and parking areas, and you will be connected to one of our emergency dispatchers automatically. An officer will be sent to your location right away. Local police, fire or ambulance agencies will be notified as needed. [Currently, if you call 911 from within the University phone system, your exact location will not be displayed to the 911 system operator.]

• The Dispatcher will determine first that you are safe. Once that is known, you will be asked for your name and location, as well as descriptive information about the incident or event with which you are involved. This information will assist the responding officer(s), and other emergency responders.

• You may contact an on-duty supervisor 24 hours a day by calling 275-3333.

• For crime prevention or victim services, call 275-2220. For investigative services, call 275-3436.

WHERE TO FIND PUBLIC SAFETY

Our administrative offices are located at the University Public Safety Center, 612 Wilson Boulevard. Office hours are 8:30am to 5:00pm weekdays. Call 275-3340 or 275-3437, fax 275-0344, or send email to PublicSafety@rochester.edu for more information. Our website is at http://www.publicsafety.rochester.edu. We are located in the Medical Center in Room G-6009 (near the bookstore and bank). Office hours are 8:30am to 5:00pm weekdays. Call 275-2221 or fax 271-4513. We are available to meet with students at the Eastman School of Music. We have space in the ESM main hall and in the main lobby of the Student Living Center.

HOW TO REPORT A CRIME

If you are a victim or a witness to a crime, we urge you to call University Public Safety immediately. For any issues, call 585 275-3333 or pick up any Blue Light Emergency Phone, or dial #413 from cell phones in the Rochester area. After you report a crime, we can suggest where you may get follow-up assistance. These may include your insurance carrier, our crime prevention staff, the Office of the Dean of Students, a Human Resources staff member or other law enforcement contact. If you recall helpful information after filing the report, contact us as soon as possible. This may include new witnesses, a more precise description of identifying markings, the value of the property, or the recovery of missing or stolen property.

If a follow-up investigation is successful, we may need further assistance from you. For example, you may be asked to identify property or suspects, or be asked to testify at administrative or judicial hearings. The Department of Public Safety is designated to be the primary receiver of reports of crimes, to make timely warnings of criminal activity to the community, and to disclose crime statistics annually.

If you are the victim of a crime or other misconduct on campus, and simply will not pursue direct action within the University or criminal justice system, you may still want to consider making a confidential report. With your permission, we can prepare a report of the details of the incident without revealing your identity. The purpose of such a confidential report is to learn about the existence of a possible problem that would not be disclosed otherwise. The information can help put in place corrective measures to safeguard you and others in the future. Additionally, this information helps the University keep a more complete record of these incidents, assists with determining whether there’s a pattern, and serves as a basis for education or publicity campaigns to the campus community regarding potential issues of concern. Any incident reported in this manner will be included as a statistical tally only, as we include proxy reports for sexual offenses and other crimes in our annual Clery Act report.

You may also seek out other University resources to discuss your concerns, and disclose a criminal incident. These reports are required to be included as statistics in the annual report to our community. Campus Authorities with responsibility for campus activities who must report crime statistics to the Department of Public Safety include but are not limited to:

- Title IX Coordinator
- Dean of Students for the colleges on River Campus, at the Medical Center and at the Eastman School of Music
- Dean of Graduate Studies
- Director of Residential Life on River Campus and at the Eastman School of Music
- Associate Vice President for Facilities and Services
- Associate Vice President for Human Resources
- Director of Athletics and Recreation
- Director for the Center for Student Conflict Management

Counselors or pastoral staffs, acting in a professional capacity, are exempt from reporting incidents in a timely manner. However, they are encouraged to provide general disclosure crime event attributes via our proxy or confidential report processes.

CRIME PREVENTION AND VICTIM ASSISTANCE

Through Student Orientation Programs, Parent Orientation Programs, service fairs, new employee orientations and individual residence hall floor presentations, crime prevention staff addresses thousands of students, parents, and employees on personal safety issues yearly. We respond to special requests from groups of staff members or students and present individualized workshops on topics of particular concern. We also distribute Safety Bulletins and conduct office/building safety surveys. We make available victim assistance support services for a crime against the person. Assistance may begin shortly after a crime is reported and may continue through the often-confusing stages of the criminal justice process.

The University does not assume responsibility for property if it is lost or stolen. To protect your property, record any identifying marks or serial numbers on a list and keep it in a safe place. Items without serial numbers may be engraved with a unique number for identification purposes. We strongly urge you to check your family homeowner’s insurance policy and secure coverage if needed. To find out more about any of the services offered by our Crime Prevention Office, call 275-2220.

PERSONAL SAFETY ESCORTS

University Public Safety will arrange for an escort to and from University locations. We will choose the most efficient way to provide you with an escort based on our activity levels at the time. We acknowledge emergencies and other high priority non-emergency calls for services first, so there may be some delay in our response to your request. Please be patient. Your own safety is not worth sacrificing for a few extra minutes. We don’t provide escorts to off-campus locations. To request an escort, call 275-3333 or pick up a Blue Light Emergency Phone.
HELP US HELP YOU

The quality of our services is dependent on the feedback from those we serve. Our professional standards process helps us respond to complaints and concerns. We also wish to recognize instances where our staff have been especially helpful and exceeded your expectations in the services they have provided.

Our public safety officers’ relationships with our community are vital to achieving our overall mission of a safe and secure campus environment. All members of the community should expect to be treated in a courteous and professional manner by members of the department. We will not tolerate unprofessional or rude behavior or a substandard level of service.

During your time at the University it is possible you could be given directions, or be asked for information, by a Public Safety Officer or other University representative responding to a call for service involving an urgent matter, a crime, or a violation of University regulations. You may be asked to identify yourself and, subsequently, to produce your University issued identification card. Your ID card quickly verifies that you may have certain privileges not extended to those not affiliated with the University. You should carry your identification card at all times and must present it on request to any authorized representative.

If the officer is investigating a crime, complaint, or a violation of University rules and regulations, you should expect to be asked reasonable questions that will help determine the facts and circumstances of a situation or other inquiry. At some point, the officer should provide you with a brief explanation as to the reason for the request for information. Circumstances may require a quick verification of identity and affiliation before responding. However, the interaction should not end without the officer taking time to provide feedback or answer general questions.

We want to make sure our services meet your needs, and would like to hear from you if you have a question, wish to say thanks, or file a complaint. To reach us you have several options:

• Call 275-3333 and ask to speak with the on-duty shift supervisor.
• Call or stop by one of our offices on the River Campus or Medical Center, and speak with a member of our management team responsible for services in those areas.
• Send a written inquiry to the Director of University Public Safety, Mark Fischer, University Public Safety Center, 612 Wilson Boulevard, Box 278950, or email him at mark.fischer@dps.rochester.edu.
• File a Public Safety Feedback form that can be found at http://www.publicsafety.rochester.edu.

There are two branches of the University of Rochester Bookstore to serve the specialized needs of nearby schools. Each Bookstore stocks all required and recommended textbooks, course packs and supplies needed on its respective campus. Used textbooks, priced at 25 percent less than new textbooks, are most readily available at the beginning of each semester. Students can also rent textbooks from each bookstore, saving as much as 70% compared to the cost of purchasing a new book. Textbooks can be returned for a refund within the first week of class, as long as the books are accompanied by a receipt and in the same condition as when they were purchased. The Bookstore will also buy used textbooks from students all year, but the best buyback prices are found toward the end of each semester.

A wide assortment of University of Rochester clothing and giftware is available at each Bookstore. Greeting cards, school supplies, dorm room necessities, and a large number of general reading books are also carried year-round for students’ convenience.

Both locations accept American Express, VISA, MasterCard, and Discover cards, as well as personal checks (with proper identification), URos accounts and Barnes & Noble gift cards.

UR AND ITS HISTORY

STUDENTS’ ASSOCIATION GOVERNMENT

WHAT IS THE STUDENTS’ ASSOCIATION?
The Students’ Association is made up of the more than 250 student groups and the 5,000 undergraduate students of the River Campus. It is funded through an Activities Fee that all undergraduate students pay. The S.A. Government is the elected body that officially represents the members of the S.A., advocates on behalf of the students, implements new initiatives to enhance the campus community, and distributes funds to student organizations. The Students’ Association Government is composed of the Executive, Legislative, and Judicial branches. Information on student government can be found at http://sa.rochester.edu.

THE EXECUTIVE BRANCH
A. President: The President is the official representative of student government and is the lead advocate for students to the administration. The President is popularly elected by the student body in the spring.
B. Vice President: The Vice President assists the President in fulfilling all of his or her duties and may act in the place of the President in his or her absence. The Vice President is elected on a joint ticket with the President in the spring.
C. Executive Directors: The President and Vice President shall create a cabinet of Executive Directors to aid in the work of student government. Every president will structure his or her cabinet differently. In general, Executive Directors works closely with one of the Senate committees (see below), can be nominated to serve on a University committee, or can serve in a position directly appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate. Executive Directors work with administration to facilitate and implement directives that are passed by the legislative branch. Applications for the Executive Directors are usually taken in the Spring, following the presidential election.

THE LEGISLATIVE BRANCH - THE SENATE
A. Senate: The Senate is composed of 18 senators – three representing the sophomore, junior and senior years, four representing the freshman year, and five representing the student body at-large. The Senate is a deliberative body that passes legislation, policies and resolutions. The legislative body is also responsible for confirming presidential, judicial, and other committee nominations, and for passing a budget that disperses the funds collected from the Activities Fee. The Senate also recognizes (or derecognizes) new student organizations and works with them to produce the best programming for the campus community. Sophomore, junior, senior and at-large senators are elected in the spring. The four freshman senators are elected in the fall.
B. Speaker: The Speaker is the official representative of the Senate. He or she chairs Senate meetings and the Steering Committee. The Speaker is selected in the spring by the outgoing Senate to serve the following term.
C. Deputy Speaker: The Deputy Speaker assists the Speaker in fulfilling all of his or her duties and may act in the place of the Speaker in his or her absence. The Deputy Speaker is selected in the spring by the outgoing Senate for the next term immediately after the Speaker is selected.

D. Committees: The Senate has standing committees which develop and execute the projects within student government. Each committee has a chair and is composed of Senators and Aides. For the most part, all student government meetings are open to anyone in the community. Committee chairs are selected in the spring by the incoming Speaker and Deputy Speaker, usually in consultation with the President and Vice President. Below is a brief description of the Senate committees:

1. Student Organization Administration & Review Committee: Creates the process by which students can create new student groups. The committee reviews new and current group constitutions and works with the Appropriations Committee to review groups before final budgeting.

2. Campus Services Committee: Creates and implements projects to increase the quality of life for students at the University of Rochester. The committee meets with the heads of departments and works with them to improve student services. Projects overseen by this committee include: DVD Library, City Cycles, Collegiate Readership Program, and Walk for Light.

3. Student Life Committee: This committee is responsible for preparing and endorsing relevant legislation pertaining to elements of the student experience that deal with multiple areas of campus life.

4. Appropriations Committee (SAAC): This committee is charged with appropriating the funds from the Student Activities Fee imposed to all undergraduate students to all SA groups and organizations. The committee consists of Student Accountants who hold regular office hours and work with these groups and organizations to assist with daily transactions and annual budgets. A Treasurer is selected in April to oversee committee meetings and to officially represent the committee in all capacities.

5. Steering Committee: Sets the agenda for all senate meetings and is a forum for the leaders of all the branches of student government to communicate. The membership consists of committee chairs, the Speaker, Deputy Speaker, President, Vice President, Chief Justice, Associate Chief Justice and three Senators.

6. Academic Affairs Committee: The committee serves to improve students’ educational experience by addressing academic concerns and engaging with administration to influence policy. The main goals of the committee are to increase student input in all academic areas, promote interaction with faculty, and facilitate communication between students and the academic administration.

7. Elections and Rules Committee: This committee serves to review all current policies and prospective changes to bylaws or other governing documents of the SA government. The committee also oversees all SA elections for elected offices.

THE JUDICIAL BRANCH - THE ALL-CAMPUS JUDICIAL COUNCIL

A. The All-Campus Judicial Council ACJC is the Judicial Branch of the Students’ Association Government. ACJC serves both as the Students’ Association highest court and as a facilitated conversation authorized by the University to address alleged violations of the student conduct standards. Fundamental to each of these roles is that ACJC provides a true jury of one’s peers. The Council is composed of 11 justices who may serve in that role until they complete their undergraduate studies. The Council also has a non-voting faculty adviser who is chosen by the Center for Student Conflict Management with the approval of the S.A. Senate.
B. Chief Justice: The Chief Justice’s responsibilities include running all meetings of the Council and acting as the official representative of the Council. The Chief Justice is selected in the Spring and serves for one year.

C. Associate Chief Justice: The Associate Chief Justice assists the Chief Justice in fulfilling all of his or her duties and may act in the place of the Chief Justice in his or her absence. The Associate Chief Justice is selected in the spring and serves for a period of one year.

UR FOLKLORE

All great libraries may be said to be haunted by the shades of authors whose books are never taken off the shelves, or who are doomed to agonize forever over mistakes they committed to print. But there is a real, mythic ghost attached to the library, and you should know about him. His story begins in the fall of 1929, in the heroic phase of campus construction.

Our ghost was reportedly a Sicilian immigrant, working near quitting time one day on the open girders of what would become “level 6-B.” A moment’s carelessness, and he fell a hundred feet to the ground below - splat. His horrified comrades clambered down to do what they could. But when they reached the ground, the victim was gone, with not even an imprint of his broken body in the mud. The police were called, but in the absence of a corpus delicti, they knew a campus prank when they saw one.

Now, the next fall, on the very same day, it is said, a group of students were studying on level 6-B in the gathering dusk when a strange looking man appeared to them out of the shadows, wearing muddy coveralls and murmuring in a thick accent, “Will you please help me get out of this place?” And then the figure melted.

The enlargement of Rush Rhees Library began early in 1967 with an enormous excavation in the rear of the old building. At the bottom of the hole the diggers uncovered a boulder, and Bob Melzdorf noticed it while passing the site. Learning that it was to be hauled away and disposed of, he called the President, Allen Wallis, and suggested a place be found for it on campus. Wallis agreed. Someone thought of the empty space in front of what was then the Women’s Center, partly because it was close to the library excavation. The boulder was positioned in the center of the circular lawn. Wallis thought of having a plaque placed on the boulder with a brief account of Melzdorf’s finding it and saving it. Somehow that was not done, partly because of the fear of having it obliterated by paint. As it happens, several generations of painters have been at work, and only the outlines of the boulder resemble Melzdorf’s discovery. (The boulder is now on the lawn to the right of Susan B. Anthony Hall.)

-Kenneth Wood

With respect to the duck pond that used to be on the corner of Elmwood and River (now Wilson) Boulevard: rumor had it that the old atomic accelerator (for which the pond was a coolant catch basin) had a flaw in its shielding, and had for years been aiming a deadly beam of particles, or whatever, right at the bus stop. The ducks that swam in the pond were supposed to be an early warning system; if they looked sick, we were all supposed to run like hell.

-D.A. Miller

I was in the first class of freshman women to live on the River Campus. We all lived in one dorm that we called the Habein Hilton (after Dean of Students Margaret Habein). In February the men staged a panty raid and the next year decided to repeat it. The dorm mothers plotted to stop the tradition. When the boys arrived, instead of a locked barricade they found doors flung open and tables set up. As they came in, we handed them cups of cocoa and cookies and thanked them for their kindness in calling. Needless to say, the panty raid never happened - then, or ever again.

A second story has to do with the Stagers’ production of Midsummer Night’s Dream. A lot of the actors came from one particular fraternity (Psi Upsilon), whose house caught fire during the Saturday night performance. Half the cast went to the fire, and those of us who were left rearranged the order of the scenes to fit the actors available at any given moment. All of the scenes were indeed staged that night, but in a decidedly random order. Later, the cast and crew were horrified to learn that part of the audience never realized that anything strange was going on!
