A special Orientation for parents and family members of UR students will begin Tuesday, August 25th and continue through Wednesday, August 26th. After allowing students to check in between 9am and 4pm, parents and students will attend Convocation, which marks the beginning of Orientation programming. Following Convocation, there will be information sessions, tours, and other special events for parents that will last until 9pm. Our parent Orientation program is focused on educating parents on the resources available for their students and giving them a better understanding of the U of R experience. Listed below are some of the many people and offices you will hear from and meet during Orientation.

Dean of Freshmen, Marcy Kraus
Dean of the College, Richard Feldman
Residential Life
Dining
Undergraduate Research Opportunities
Public Safety
Information Technology
Student Activities
University Health Services
University Counseling Services
Center for Excellence in Teaching and Learning
Office of the Dean of Students
The Gwen M. Greene Career and Internship Center
Parent and Family Relations

Towards the end of the day on Wednesday, August 26th, there is a break in the student and parent Orientation schedules to allow you and your student to have dinner together, which signals the end of parent Orientation. Students must be back on campus by 7:45 PM that evening for a required event. Students will then start their new lives at UR with a busy and exciting schedule that will guide them into the beginning of classes!

There will be special sessions for parents of international students on August 24th. However, these parents are highly encouraged to attend the regular parent orientation on August 25th and 26th, as new and different information will be presented on all days.

A complete schedule will be posted at the beginning of August. Registration is highly encouraged and will be available online. We ask that you complete the digital registration form by Sunday, August 2nd, to assist us in planning for your arrival.

See you in August!