The tradition of taking advantage of nice Rochester weather by flinging discs across the quad continues today. See Spring Fling (Part 1) on page 8 for details. Do you know who's in this photo? If so, send us a note at rochrev@rochester.edu.

River Campus Undergraduate

1939 Glenn Rayson
(see '99).

1941 Denis Radefeld has won an award for excellence in community service from Leadership Lorain County in Ohio. A retired surgeon, Denis is a board member of the Lorain County Free Clinic, which serves patients without health insurance. He and his wife, Carol, a nurse and surgical assistant, have also served with Medical Ministry International since 1983. In February, Denis and Carol traveled to the Dominican Republic, near the border with Haiti, to care for earthquake victims. The trip marked their 53rd two-week medical mission abroad.

Snapshots? Scrapbooks? Old Movies?

A new University history is in the works and we're looking for examples of campus life over the course of Rochester's 160 years. If you have photos or other historical material to share, we'd love to borrow them. We'll return your submissions unharmed. If we use your photos in the book, we'll send you a complimentary copy of the history. Look for more details at www.rochester.edu/aboutus/history.

1945 Barbara Chandler Rayson (see '99).

1946 Rosa Drake Julstrom '47E (MA) was a presenter at the November 2009 conference, "Music and the Arts: Our Hope for the Future," in Natchez, Miss. She writes: "The conference was a tribute to the late William Grant Still, dean of Afro-American composers, and much admired by [composer, conductor, and director of the Eastman School from 1924 to 1964] Howard Hanson." Rosa performed piano music by Still and solos by Clifford Julstrom '48E (PhD).

1950 Joe Sberro writes that he and Roger Moore held a two-man reunion last October. "Rog flew from his home on Amelia Island, Fla., to join me for the Albuquerque International Balloon Fiesta. Rog has returned to his first love, photography, and wanted to take pictures of the myriad special balloon shapes. I took Rog on a trip along the Turquoise Trail to the notorious Mineshaft Saloon. The photo is of the two of us in the barroom, with me hoisting a small libation." Joe adds that, as a Navy photographer in World War II, Roger served in China and photographed Chinese workers in and around Shanghai in 1945. Early this year, he had a one-man exhibition of these black-and-white prints in Hong Kong and Shanghai. Roger has also contributed photo illustrations to four books. Joe retired after 50 years of information technology consulting, including 10-year stints with the National Cancer Institute, NASA's Goddard Space Flight Center, and the National Weather Service. He writes: "For the Weather Service, I worked in South America and the Caribbean installing meteorology stations at airports such as Bolivia's El Alto, at 13,000 feet." In retirement, Joe has been providing pro bono information technology services to a nonprofit group in Albuquerque that sponsors Native American youth soccer teams on the reservations and pueblos. "Next spring," Joe writes, "I will head to Rog's place on Amelia Island to do some surf fishing along their lovely Atlantic Coast."

1952 Chesley Kahmann writes that she has released a new CD, Twenty-Six Minus X (Orbiting Clef Productions), a musical play that she performs with her singing group, the Interludes. The recording is the 4th volume in Chesley's Kahmann Touch series.

1956 Arthur Miller '08 (Honorary), University Professor at the New

1950 Sberro and Moore

York University School of Law, sends an update. In February, he gave the commencement address for the 2010 graduating class of Concord Law School, the nation's first online law school. He also received an honorary doctor of laws degree from the institution. In March, an exhibition of part of his collection of woodblock prints by Utagawa Kuniyoshi opened at the Japan Society in New York City. And in April, a ceremony was held at NYU to dedicate the 2010 volume of the Annual Survey of American Law to Miller. The quarterly journal, edited by law students at the university and devoted to analyzing legal trends, has dedicated each volume to a prominent jurist, scholar, or practitioner since its founding in 1947. Among those speaking at the ceremony were Supreme Court Justice Ruth Bader Ginsburg and former ABC news anchor Charles Gibson.

1959 Tom Worosz writes: "I want to thank the University and all of my classmates who were involved in planning and executing the events surrounding the Class of '59's 50th reunion this past October. From the welcoming dinner on the first night, through the various meetings and seminars, to the presentation to each of the attending alumni of a special 50th UR remembrance medallion, a job well done and a BIG thank you." Tom adds that he took a six-week trip through Cambodia, Laos, Thailand, and Vietnam starting in late January. He created a blog of his adventures at www.greatindochinaloop.blogspot.com.

1963 John Popp has been appointed chairman of the department of neurosurgery at Brigham and Women's Hospital in Boston.

1965 Lawrence Marcus writes: "I met my current wife, Eugenia Volz, at our 40th Monroe High School (Rochester) reunion in 1999. We've been together since May 2001. After living in Raleigh, N.C., for eight years, we moved to Oxnard Shores, in Southern California, to be closer to her son and our two granddaughters. It's fun being a three-minute walk from the ocean."

1966 In the March–April issue, we incorrectly identified the name of the professorship held by Jeff Raffel. Jeff is the Charles P. Messick Professor of Public Administration at the University of Delaware. We apologize for the error.

1968 Harriet Siegel Boxer (see '99). . . . Cathy Jones Minehan (see '05).

1969 Elaine Dutka writes that in January 2009, "gathering in Washington, D.C., to celebrate Barack Obama's inaugural, a few U of R grads came up with an idea: toasting their 40th reunion in California wine country." In October, she, Sandra Lee Kawano, Sandra's husband, Arn, Peter Goldscheider, Susan Malone Back, Daniel White, Daniel's wife, Maxine Davidowitz, Judith Levy Meltzer, John Levey, and John's girlfriend, Karen Cease, "spent a long weekend in the Napa Valley where we ate too much, soaked in a hot springs mineral pool, and toured the Schramsberg Vineyards." In the front row (left to right) are Arn, John, Sandra, Susan, Elaine, and Maxine; and in the back row (left to right) are Judith, Karen, Daniel, and Peter. . . . Helen Conway Flynn '69E, '72W (MA) has written a book, Jewels for My Granddaughters (Clareau Press). Helen operates her own life coaching consultancy, Clareau Coaching, in Potomac Falls, Va.
