

was 13–2, 4–0 in the league. That included a 3–1 win over William Smith on Meliora Weekend. Six players had 14 or more points in an upscale offense that scored 62 goals through 15 matches. Michelle Relin '16 led with 14 goals and eight assists for 32 points. Lindsey Randall '15 had seven goals and nine assists for 23 points. Goaltending was shared between Madison Wagner '14 (1.39 GAA) and Tara Lamberti '15 (1.23 GAA).

Men's and women's cross country: Both teams were ranked in the Division III polls on a weekly basis. In the last meet before the state championships, the men finished fourth out of 34 schools at the Oberlin College Inter-Regional Rumble. Adam Pachek '14 was first for Rochester. The women finished eighth of 31 teams, led by Catherine Knox '16 who was 20th overall.

Volleyball: Headed into the New York Regional Challenge at RIT in late October with an 8–22 overall mark (0–7 UAA), Rochester had two prime wins during the year: beating 23rd-ranked Salisbury University, 3–2, in mid-September, then shutting down RIT, 3–0, a week later. Savannah Benton '14 and Jennie Ford '16 were the top two in kills per game.

Rowing: One of the prime results from the fall was a sixth place finish by the women's rowing team at the Head of the Charles Regatta, one of the most widely respected fall regattas. The Yellowjackets went into the event as a lottery team, which meant that they didn't have an automatic starting position, and wound up starting in 24th place.

Golf: The team will have the opportunity to host the Liberty League championships in April after winning the league's fall meet. The Yellowjackets won the meet by 12 strokes over RPI. Nick Palladino '14 was the medalist with a 10-under 134. Will Mallia '14 and Matt van Niekerk '17 finished in the top eight.

Men's tennis: The Yellowjackets were 3–0 in the fall, dominated the St. Lawrence Fall Classic, and had two players reach the Round of 16 at the ITA regional championships—Josh Jachuck '16 and Julian Danko '15.

Women's tennis: The team won its only dual meet of the year. Christine Ho '16 reached the quarterfinals of the ITA doubles championship and the consolation final of singles. Two players reached the singles quarterfinals at the New York state championships. R
