

was Montclair University, which reached the Final Four last season. Rochester was ranked 21st in the media poll and 23rd in the coaches' poll at the break.

Men's basketball: Jared Seltzer '16 and Sam Borst-Smith '17 formed a potent one-two scoring combination for the men who won six of their first 10 games. Rochester won the Chuck Resler Tournament and reached the championship game of the final Wendy's College Classic before Roberts Wesleyan prevailed, 79–77. Seltzer went on a torrid scoring stretch, getting 66 points in three games to accompany 34 rebounds. He was averaging 19.0 points per game at the break. Borst-Smith, who missed one game with an injured hand, was scoring at a 16.9 clip.

Men's track and field: Brant Crouse '17 (500 meters), Jon Kuberka '16 (long jump), and Boubacar Diallo '16 (triple jump) all qualified in their events for the ECAC championships in March.

Women's track and field: Alexandra Goldman '17 qualified for ECACs in both the 20-pound weight throw and the shot put in the season's first meet. Emily VanDenburgh '16 qualified in the long jump as did Amanda Hall '16. Graduate student Yvette Igbokwe qualified in the 60-meter dash.

Squash: The Yellowjackets were 2–1 in their first three matches, defeating Drexel and Princeton, but falling to a vastly improved Pennsylvania team.

Fall

Women's cross country qualified for the NCAA Division III national championship race as a team for the first time since 1987. The Yellowjackets finished 14th in a field of 32 squads. In the regional race, Rochester was 5th of 37 teams. Catherine Knox '16 and Anne Peterson '17 took home all-regional honors.

Field hockey earned an NCAA bid, won a first-round home game, and upended a higher-ranked team to get to the national quarterfinals. Rochester defeated Misericordia, 2–1, in the first round at Fauver. Michelle Relin '16 scored two goals in the last 10 minutes to rally Rochester.

In a Sweet 16 match with Salisbury University, the 20th-ranked Yellowjackets defeated No. 7 Salisbury, 3–2, when Callie Fisher '17 broke a 2–2 tie with seven seconds remaining. Rochester finished 18–6 after an Elite Eight loss to fourth-ranked Ursinus College in the quarterfinals. R

BY THE NUMBERS

Milestone Season

Men's soccer team posts program's 600th victory, 200th for head coach.

When Jeff Greblich '17 put in a key goal midway through the second period of Rochester's game against Moravian College in late October, the junior from Lagrangville, New York, did more than ensure a 3–0 victory.

The win also marked the 600th for the men's soccer program, putting Rochester among only eight NCAA Division III programs to reach that milestone. Since 1934, the program's record is 601–335–109, a .627 all-time winning percentage.

In September, the team also notched the 200th career win for coach Chris Apple '92, whose record at Rochester is 183–54–43.

He has led Rochester since 2001, when the All-American and Academic All-American Yellowjacket returned to his alma mater after coaching stints at Notre Dame and North Carolina Wesleyan. R

Did You Pitch a Perfect Game? No-hitter?

The NCAA Statistics Service is trying to produce a database of all perfect games and no-hitters in college baseball and softball.

While Rochester's softball records are up-to-date—four no-hitters, including a perfect game—because the varsity sport debuted in 1998, the records for baseball, which date to the 19th century, are a little less complete.

If you have information on a no-hitter or perfect game in baseball at Rochester, please email the Athletic Communications Office with the information (year, opponent, score, location, and, if you know it, the name of the pitcher).

Email the information to SportsInfo@rochester.edu.
