Tuition Reimbursement Information

- If the supervisor requires an hourly paid staff member to take job-related course(s), class time is considered as working time and will be paid as such by the staff member's department. If a course occurs outside the normal work hours, additional pay will be required for hourly paid staff (including overtime premium) if work exceeds 40 hours in a week.
- Tuition benefits are provided for the cost of tuition for credit-bearing courses.* Cost of supplies, textbooks and the like will not be covered. Courses taken on audit basis will not be covered.
- In all instances, tuition benefits are contingent upon successful completion of the course and continuation of eligibility for tuition benefits based on employment status with the University. If these criteria are not met, the employee will be responsible for payment of the course and any related fees, i.e., late fees. The approved reimbursement is only for the course(s) listed. Any change in course(s) listed (add/drop/withdrawal), must be forwarded in writing to the Benefits Office.
- In no instance is an employee eligible for more than 2 courses per semester or quarter (The limit applies to all courses taken at a given time, whether at other colleges or universities or the U of R.).

Non-credit courses are not covered unless they meet the criteria of being directly job-related, having at least 15 contact hours, having outside readings and assignments, and having a formal evaluation based on a final exam. It is recommended that the documentation that the course meets these requirements be provided to the Benefits Office prior to the start of the course.*

Tuition Benefits for Graduate Courses and/or Non-Credit Courses May be Taxable and Require Additional Taxes to be Deducted from your Paycheck

Graduate tuition assistance benefits and/or tuition reimbursement for non-credit courses up to $5,250 in a calendar year are not taxable. Graduate tuition assistance benefits and/or tuition reimbursement for non-credit courses that exceed $5,250 in a calendar year are taxable wages unless the course satisfies the requirements for a tax deductible job-related course under IRS rules.* Generally, a job-related course will satisfy these IRS requirements if it maintains or improves skills for the individual's present job, or if the course meets the employer's express requirements for retaining the job, and the course is not part of a program that will qualify the individual for a new trade or business. Please refer to the flow chart on page 4 for assistance in determining whether the graduate tuition benefits and/or tuition reimbursement for non-credit courses you anticipate receiving will be taxable.

If you believe that your proposed graduate level course(s) and/or non-credit course(s) satisfies the requirements for a tax deductible job-related course under IRS rules, please complete the University of Rochester Graduate Tuition Waiver/Reimbursement Tax Exemption Form on pages 5. For taxable tuition benefits, applicable Federal and State income taxes and FICA taxes (approximately 39.27% of the taxable tuition amount) will be deducted from the employee's paycheck when the reimbursement is paid. In addition, the taxable income will be reflected on the W-2 for the calendar year when the tuition benefit is reimbursed to the employee. Below is an example of a calculation:

Total yearly tuition amount = $19,980 - $5,250 (tax-free amount) = $14,730 x 39.27% = $5,784.47 (estimated amount that will be deducted from the employee's paychecks during the calendar year)

* If you worked at one of the members of the University's controlled group during this calendar year (Highland Hospital, Highlands at Brighton, Highlands at Pittsford, Highlands Living Center, UR Medicine Home Care (VNS), Visiting Nurse Signature Care, High Tech Rochester, Nicholas H. Noyes Memorial Hospital, Jones Memorial Hospital and F. F. Thompson Health System, Inc.), and utilized employee tuition benefits, please advise the University's Benefits Office of the amount of that tuition benefit.

University of Rochester Graduate Tuition Waiver/Reimbursement Benefits
 Determination Whether Graduate Tuition Assistance Benefits and/or Tuition Reimbursement for Non-Credit Courses Exceeding $5,250 in a Calendar Year are Taxable¹

1. About this Chart: Ordinarily, employer-provided graduate tuition assistance benefits and/or tuition reimbursement for non-credit courses that exceed $5,250 are taxable wages, while benefits up to $5,250 are not taxable. However, certain job-related education is not taxable over $5,250. This chart is intended to assist in determining whether an educational benefit sought by an employee meets the exception to taxability. This does not constitute tax advice to employees, and employees should consult their personal tax advisors.
2. Minimum Required Education: For example, suppose an employee, who holds a bachelor's degree, obtains temporary employment as an instructor at the University and undertakes graduate courses as a candidate for a graduate degree. Also, suppose the employee may become a faculty member only if he/she obtains a graduate degree and may continue as an instructor only so long as he/she shows satisfactory progress towards obtaining his/her graduate degree. The graduate courses taken by the employee constitute education required to meet the minimum educational requirements for qualification in the employee's trade or business and, thus, the expenditures for such courses in excess of $5,250 are not deductible.
3. New Trade or Business. For example, a program of study qualifies an employee for a new trade or business if successful completion of the program would qualify the employee to: (1) meet a new category of professional licensure or certification required to perform a particular job (e.g. nurse practitioner certification); or (2) be employed in a position that has a different educational requirement than his/her current position, either within or outside the University. NOTE: Intention or actual job change is irrelevant; even if the employee does not intend to change positions, or does not take a new position, the tuition benefit is taxable if the employee becomes qualified to do so.
